British Jets in Air Race of Century

Claimed by British manufacturers to be the world's best, the Hawker Hunter, above, and the Vickers-Armstrong Swift, below, will thunder over the African desert next week in a duel for the world's speed record. The race will also prove a battle between two of Britain's senior test pilots, Lt.-Cmdr. Michael Lithgow, who will handle the Swift, and Sqdr. Ldr. Neville Duke, who recently established a world speed mark of 727.6 m.p.h. in the Hawker, built by Hawker-Siddeley Co. (Photos by London Daily Mirror.)

70,000 Riflemen Demand Release of Mossadegh

TEHRAN, Iran (UP)—A spokesman for Iran's largest tribe announced today 70,000 riflemen were ready to back up an ultimatum for the release of jailed former Premier Mohammed Mossadegh.

The spokesman, Reza Zadeh Ghasghal, said Chief Nasser Khan of the 200,000-member Ghasghal tribe handed the ultimatum to a member of Premier Fazlollah Zahedi's government. Zahedi had sent the emissary into southern Iran to determine whether the Ghasghal tribe was loyal to the premier and the Shah.

Nasser told the representative that the tribe was ready to back up an ultimatum for the release of jailed former Premier Mohammed Mossadegh.

Gen. Nadar Batmanghili, Zahedi's army chief of staff, said he was not frightened by the threat.

"Let's see what their rifles can do against our Sherman tanks," Batmanghili said. Mossadegh has been charged with treason and bankruptcy of the nation.

SHAMROCKS, TWO DOWN, TOPS AT BOX OFFICE

Victoria Lacrosse fans aren't giving up on the Shamrocks. Despite the fact that the 'Rocks are down two games to Peterborough Trailermen in the best-of-seven series for the Canadian lacrosse championship, a near-capacity crowd is again expected for the third game at Memorial Arena tonight.

Arena officials announced this morning that only 800 tickets were still available for tonight's game. This compares with the first two games, each of which attracted over 5,000 customers.

Game time tonight is 8.30.

Hunted Man Spreads Panic In Olympics

Wilkinson Road Escapee at Large, Tricks Pursuit Near Port Angeles

James Carrol Hall, Wilkinson Road Mental Hospital escapee, now positively identified as the man who is haunting the Crescent Lake country near Port Angeles, is causing panic among rural dwellers.

The 30-year-old convicted burglar who twice attempted to take his own life while in custody, and who escaped from the Wilkinson Road institution a second time last Friday, has been reported sighted repeatedly in Washington state.

Troopers of the State Patrol and deputies from the Port Angeles sheriff's office, led by Sheriff James Morse, have been minutes behind the fugitive on several occasions. But he has been able to evade them so far.

"The people of this area are pretty much upset," American officials told The Times today. "They think this man is dangerous. We were close to him this morning; but he got away. He seems to be able to move mighty fast in the bush."

Children are staying home from school. Wives won't let their husbands leave their homes. The fugitive, who has been seen and recognized by the description circulated by word of mouth, radio and newspapers, has approached several farmers for food and work. But he has been smart enough to sense suspicion and has vanished on each occasion the police have been notified of his presence.

RADIO ALARM

Shortly after 11 a.m. today, a motorist equipped with two-way radio, reported a man answering to Hall's description on a bridge at the western end of Lake Crescent.

Sheriff Morse of Port Angeles, with a deputy, raced to the spot by car.

"We are in direct radio communication with the sheriff,"

Local Option Ballot For Liquor Opposed

Mandate Clear, Says Spokesman For 'Common Sense' Committee

Vigorous protests against local option voting in connection with a new liquor law will be launched by the Citizens' Committee for a Common Sense Liquor Law, George A. Cran, chairman, said in Victoria today.

"The people have already spoken," he said. "In the June, 1952 plebiscite, they gave liquor by the glass a three to two majority. This is a clear mandate to the government to follow the Stevens report."

"Why go to the additional expense of voting again, on a question already decided by the people?" Mr. Cran stated the only cases where local option votes should be taken is in areas where the plebiscite vote was negative. He gave as an example the city of Penticton, which expressed "dry" preferences, although the electoral district voted "wet."

Japanese UN Plan

TOKYO (Reuters)—Japan is studying a plan to apply for associate membership in the United Nations, Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki told a press conference today.

CCL Takes Stand

MONTREAL (CP)—The executive of the Canadian Congress of Labor proposed today that Canada recognize the Communist government of China and press for its admission to the United Nations, providing the Korean peace conference reaches a "successful conclusion."

Justice Farris Leaves Hospital

VANCOUVER (CP)—Chief Justice Wendell B. Farris was released from St. Paul's Hospital Thursday when he was being treated for pneumonia.

The prominent jurist was stricken earlier in the year and was recuperating at his farm in Surrey when he suffered a serious relapse Aug. 22.

Douks Quit Hunger Strike

Ready to Place Children With Orthodox Group

By LOYD BULMUR

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—Nine more Doukhobors were convicted today of parading in the nude. This brings to a total of 18 the number of Doukhobors so far convicted of the offense in the last two days.

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—Soup, juices and glucose were ordered today for 144 Doukhobor fanatics after reports from faraway Uruguay apparently ended their eight-day fast at Oakalla Prison.

Gaunt faces and faltering footsteps among the 73 women and 72 men prompted prison physician Dr. R. G. Richmond to order about 80 of them to bed. He said some had reached "the danger point."

The hunger strike ended simultaneously with word from Montevideo that the "nude parades" for which the Doukhobors had been jailed may have ruined the sect's chances to resettle in the republic.

Stefan S. Sorokin, bearded spiritual leader of the Sons of Freedom told reporters in Montevideo that the Uruguayan government had given him the "manana" treatment since the dissidents had staged new uprisings here in British Columbia.

"Manana" means tomorrow, or, in this instance, indefinite postponement.

Sorokin went to Uruguay a year ago to negotiate for resettlement of 700 Doukhobor families now living in British Columbia's Kootenay Valley. The Doukhobors reportedly contributed $25,000 to finance his trip.

There was no comment at Oakalla prison on Sorokin's statements but the Doukhobors obviously were disheartened. Coupled with exhaustion from the lack of food, the development was believed to have broken the fanatics' desire to refuse to eat until they received "a message from God."

One of the Doukhobors asked prison guards Thursday night for six dozen cans of vegetable juices—the first sign that the men were ready to end the fast.

Most of the women had requested juice on Tuesday. Only a few die-hards still refused to eat.

All were to have appeared Thursday in a makeshift police court at the Jubilee labor hall in suburban Burnaby but only 50 men and 12 women were strong enough to make the trip in buses. A squad of RCMP constables had to carry some of the women into the courtroom.

Specifically, the Douks were accused of parading nude before school children at interior Perry's Sliding when the government ordered that all Doukhobor children must attend regular school classes. Charges of contributing to juvenile delinquency were imposed on all of them.

Nine Sons of Freedom were convicted and remanded to Sept. 21 for sentence. The cases against the others were continued until Sept. 25. Court authorities said as possible would be held regularly after the 25th until the entire band had answered the charges.

The nature of the Freedomite cult, opposing man-made laws and organized authority, including government, can give an incorrect impression that it favors Communism, experienced observers said.

But the fact that the splinter religion opposes authority in any form—except the self-imposed form of religious leadership it develops—discounted the Red influence.

Observers said this appeared to be the first offer from the Sons of Freedom to send their children to school. All orthodox Doukhobor children attend regular classes in the Kootenay area schools and, should they accept the Freedomite children, it was presumed they also would attend schools.

UN Delegate From Poland Bolts to West

Asylum Sought In United States

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—A Polish United Nations delegate has bolted and asked the United States for asylum, informed sources said today.

He is Dr. Marek Korowicz, first alternate member of the Polish delegation to the UN General Assembly.

Korowicz was a professor at Kicow University in Poland before being assigned recently to the UN post.

According to the sources, Korowicz has no immediate relatives at home who might suffer from his defection.

This fact evidently was discovered by a delegation official while the group was aboard ship en route here. When the group arrived, Korowicz' passport was said to have been picked up by his countryman.

This probably played a big part in convincing him to ask asylum, observers said.

Allied PWs Change Minds Over Release

MUNSAN (AP)—Ten or more Allied prisoners who once refused repatriation have changed their minds and will be handed over to the UN command Saturday, the Communists told the Allied command today.

The Reds did not give any nationalities.

The Communists said previously they held about 300 South Koreans and about 20 non-Koreans who had refused to return home. At least some Americans were believed to be among the score of non-Koreans.

An announcement from the UN section of the joint military armistice commission said the Allied prisoners would be released at 11 a.m. Saturday (7 p.m. Friday, PDT).

Execution of Vancouver Fighter Postponed

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice J. V. Cline in Supreme Court today postponed until October 27 the execution of Charles Mathews, young boxer under sentence to hang for the hammer slaying of Mrs. Los Angeles Smith here last March 4.

Mathews, who had been under sentence to die September 29, has opened an appeal from conviction which will be heard in Victoria Monday.

'ECONOMIC CIVIL WAR' FORESEEN

Laing Urges Action to Avoid B.C. Labor-Management Collision

By GORDON FORBES

Establishment of a Board of Labor-Management Relations to head off a "economic civil war" in British Columbia was proposed this afternoon by Liberal Leader Arthur Laing.

Mr. Laing, in a speech prepared for delivery to the Legislature, lashed out at the labor department's inaction and the government's failure to aid the hard-pressed basic industries of lumbering, mining, and fishing.

He listed, and lambasted, contradictory statements of government leaders on the province's economy.

The Liberal chief, in his first speech in the provincial house, said labor-management relations are in worse condition than they have been for months. He said the labor department has refused to take a stand between warring factions, or to encourage conciliation.

"Surely labor and management need not alternately have the whip hand," he said. "Do we insist on an alternative preponderance of red and white corpulences in the economic blood-stream?"

He said there is an area where

SKELETON NOT CADDY, JUST OLD BASKING SHARK

Fears that "Caddy" had come to grief some weeks ago following discovery of decomposed remains near Campbell River Thursday night were discounted today.

Scientists at the Pacific Biological Station at Nanaimo indicated that the remains of a "large sea creature" were likely those of a basking shark.

The badly-decomposed body drifted ashore at Willow Point, six miles south of Campbell River. It was described as having a skeleton 18 feet long with a head like a cow, long neck bones, large paunch and long tail.

"We doubt the head like a cow" observation, and although we cannot say for certain, we still believe it is most likely a basking shark," a scientist said. "We are having portions of the creature sent to the station here for examination."

Australia Offers Olive Branch to Reds

Warns Kremlin West on Guard

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Australia told Russia today the way is clear for it to "try a more human and co-operative policy for the future," but warned the Kremlin that the West will not immediately "lower its guard."

Australian External Affairs Minister Richard G. Casey appealed before the United Nations General Assembly for East-West agreement on atomic energy control before both sides reach a "saturation point" in nuclear weapons that would enable them to "destroy all the major centres of the other side."

He also declared in the assembly's policy debate that Australia had hoped this session might have been able to avoid further bitter debate concerning the Korean political conference.

"There seemed," he said, "little that could be added by this session and, indeed, it might be thought that further discussion of this matter in New York would only tend to complicate the issues facing the political conference and possibly burden and embarrass it."

The western powers were pressing the Communists for a quick agreement on a date and site for the conference.

With the approval of the 15 other UN members which fought the Korean war, United States Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Thursday night sent a message to Communist China through Sweden, asking the Reds for the second time to agree to get the parley started.

Dulles sent the new message to the Chinese Reds a few hours after he had accused the Communists of stalling on the peace parley.

benefit our hard-pressed basic industries," said Mr. Laing.

He listed cabinet ministers' inconsistent statements on the province's economy:

Premier Bennett (April 15)—"Biggest boom year in B.C. history."

Health Minister Martin (May 20)—"I anticipate a great economic crash."

Premier Bennett (July 27)—"Unless Ottawa changes its attitude, a depression is unavoidable."

Attorney-General Bonner (Aug. 17)—"Vancouver will double its population in the next 10 years."

Said Mr. Laing: "These predictions cover the entire economic spectrum—probably designed so at least one member of the government will be right."

QUOTES GUNDERSON

He quoted Finance Minister Gunderson: "Private enterprise cannot operate if it is stifled by high taxation."

"And yet all we are offered by this government is more taxation on mines and forests," said Mr. Laing.

"If full employment at the highest wages industry can pay, after a reasonable profit, is maintained, there will be no concern over the financing of schools, hospitals and social services, the leader said.

"If we fail to give top consideration to our revenue producers, we will do so at our peril and all our services will be in trouble," he said.

Mr. Laing, turning to agriculture, said the government's decontrol of the milk industry above the producer level will lead to a disorganized market.

He said there will be no profit for anyone in temporary cheap milk if it leads to restricted production and higher prices later.

"I consider as a result of the plebiscite in 1952 that this government has an unmistakable mandate to institute sales of liquor by the glass in all those provincial ridings except the four which defeated the plebiscite," he said.

IN THE HOUSE

Breezy, smiling Dr. Larry Giovando, B.C.'s only lory MLA, loosened up the strained atmosphere in the Legislature Thursday with a short, sparkling speech.

He started by poking fun at his own alleged low spirits.

"I'm really low," he said. "My ghost writer isn't here, and the Shamrocks lost last night. It's been a tough day."

The doctor, dealing with an issue involving an affidavit, said he went to a lawyer who said he'd "peruse" it.

"He 'perused' it and it cost me $75 to find out what the word meant," he quipped.

He didn't want to talk much about the liquor laws.

"I prefer to leave the handling of liquor to the member for Fernie (Tom Uphill). He's more experienced."

The veteran Labor MLA nodded his approval.

Getting a plug in for Naimo, he said:

"It's the fastest growing city on the island—the birds may go to Victoria but people, industries, the CFB and Blackball ferries go to Naimo. Victoria can keep the birds. Give us the secondary industries."

Percy Wright (SC, Victoria) found support for his side in the City Hall squabble from CCF Leader Arnold Webster.

The opposition leader told the House: "No obstacle should be placed in the way of any citizen who wants to serve."

Rev. Charlie Parker (SC, Peace River) believes in advertising the north country.

He's sporting a red and yellow tie bearing the picture of oil well derricks.

Howe Proposes GATT Pact Extend to 1954

Canadian Minister In Geneva Address

GENEVA (BUP)—Canadian Trade Minister C. D. Howe proposed today that members of the general agreement on tariffs and trade continue present tariffs for at least another year.

Tariff reductions negotiated under GATT were bound only until the end of this year, but Howe said there were so many prospects of improving world trade through negotiations outside GATT that the bound tariffs should remain in effect until the end of 1954.

"Our main task at this session is to ensure continued progress in the development of mutually advantageous trade among the nations of the world," Howe told the eighth session of the GATT contracting parties.

"I am convinced that without the general agreement the dislocations resulting from the Second World War would have been much more persistent."

"Whatever its shortcomings, it does provide the best basis thus far attained for the successful and efficient conduct of world trade. Under this agreement, governments have consulted one another on matters of trade, tariffs have been reduced, and fair trade practices have been established."

He called for "a constructive re-examination of this whole agreement."

Howe said world trade was being hampered by quantitative restrictions of a sort not envisaged when GATT was prepared. He did not mention it specifically in his speech, but Canada has been petitioning the United States to lift quotas imposed against the importation of Canadian dairy products.

"I think it is clear that, if world trade can be conducted on a non-discriminatory basis for a sufficient number of important countries, it should be quite possible to take the other steps necessary for the eventual restoration of the convertibility of the world's currencies."

CHAMBER ASKS CAUTION ON GENEVA PACT

EDMONTON, Alta. (BUP)—The Canadian Chamber of Commerce ended its 24th general convention by recommending against Canadian participation in the Geneva trade pact unless other major trading nations agree to abide by it.

The chamber's declaration obviously was meant for the United States which came under criticism during the four-day convention for signing the general agreement on tariffs and trade (GATT) but at the same time erecting barriers to exports from member nations.

Police Believe Mrs. McLean Is Behind 'Curtain'

GENEVA, Switzerland (UP)—Evidence mounted today that Mrs. Melinda MacLean kept a rendezvous behind the Iron Curtain with her long-missing British diplomat husband. But police watched a garage where she left her car a week ago saying she would return for it today.

At least three persons said they saw the 37-year-old American-born mother and her three children aboard a train that left Lausanne last Friday for Zurich.

Ever since Donald G. MacLean and Guy Burgess, key British diplomats, vanished more than two years ago there have been unconfirmed reports they were behind the Iron Curtain.

A Swiss university professor, a porter and a woman passenger said they saw Mrs. MacLean aboard the Lausanne-Zurich train.

Police had little hope Mrs. MacLean would show up today at the garage at Lausanne where she left her black Chevrolet last Friday before boarding the train. She told the garage attendant at the time she would return in one week—today.

3 MILLION FRENCH WORKERS THREATEN NEW STRIKE WAVES

PARIS (UP)—Leaders of 3,000,000 organized workers threatened a paralyzing new wave of strikes throughout France today.

They denounced pay raises voted by the cabinet Thursday to 302,000 workers in government-owned services as "ridiculously" low.

The Communist-led General Confederation, the Socialist "workers' force" and the Catholic Labor Federation joined in demanding bigger concessions.

MLA CAN'T HANG BEFORE HE'S DEAD

Ruling Keeps Calder Picture Off House Walls

The B.C. Indian Welfare and Arts Society will have to wait until Frank Calder, Indian MLA for Atlin, is dead or no longer a member of the House, before it can obtain permission to hang his picture in the Legislative Buildings.

This was the ruling handed down by the Provincial Secretary's department in answer to a request from the society for permission to hang the Indian MLA's picture in the buildings. This could not be done as long as Mr. Calder was a member of the House, the letter said.

The society wanted to hang a picture to commemorate the election of the first Indian to the B.C. Legislative Assembly.

Commenting on the secretary's letter at a meeting Thursday one member said: "It's a pity. Mr. Calder is so nice looking now."

One member said the government's policy resulted in the hanging of pictures of former ministers and cabinet ministers taken when they were well on in years.

"That is misrepresentation," she said. "You get the impression that all our former representatives in the past were men with grey hair or flowing, white beards."

Webster Urges Full Probe of Liquor Profits

Alcohol Research Council Advocated

Appointment of another liquor inquiry commission to complete the work of the 1952 inquiry was recommended in the Legislature Thursday by CCF Leader Arnold Webster.

Mr. Webster agreed with the Stevens Commission recommendation that a further probe be made into an analysis of profits of various phases of the liquor industry.

It also should study the effects of alcohol on the person and society, and more effective treatment of alcoholics, he said.

"Emphasis should be placed on a continuing and enlightened program of education," he said. "Excessive drinking is one of the most challenging social problems of our day."

He recommended establishment of an alcohol research council, a rehabilitation detention centre, and strong Liquor Control Board enforcement branch separate from the inspection branch.

Russia Confirms Successful Tests of New Atomic Bomb

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government today claimed successful tests of "new type" atomic bombs in recent weeks, but said it still wants an international ban on mass destruction weapons.

The announcement by the Soviet news agency Tass said the blasts occurred "in the last few weeks" but gave no details of the "new type" weapons tested.

In Washington, a spokesman for the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission said the Russian announcement "merely confirms" the AEC's statement Aug. 31 that a fission-atomic explosion of about the same power as recent U.S. tests in Nevada had taken place Aug. 23 in Russia. The previous statement added the explosion "would appear to be part of a series."

PM Spikes Rumors Of Cabinet Shuffle

St. Laurent Says Abbott and Pearson Will Keep Portfolios; Lesage Only New Minister

OTTAWA (CP)—Parliament will meet Thursday, Nov. 12, with probably only one new face on the front benches.

Prime Minister St. Laurent announced Thursday night that Jean Lesage, 41-year-old lawyer who has represented Mont-Magny-L'Islet in parliament since 1946, will join his cabinet as minister of resources and development.

Mr. Lesage was appointed last January as parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott and was reappointed in that post last week. He served as parliamentary assistant to External Affairs Minister Pearson in 1951 and 1952.

Hon. Robert Winters, 43-year-old resources minister since 1950, becomes works minister succeeding Mr. Justice Alphonse Fournier, 60, appointed to the Exchequer Court before the Aug. 10 federal election.

Mr. St. Laurent also spiked reports that Finance Minister Abbott and External Affairs Minister Pearson might figure in a cabinet shuffle.

He said Mr. Abbott, 54, has agreed to remain as finance minister to pilot the revision of the Bank Act through the new parliament. The act must be reviewed every 10 years.

Consideration was given to Mr. Abbott's anxiety to relinquish the finance ministry, Mr. St. Laurent said. But in view of the serious consideration necessary by parliament of the Bank Act, Mr. Abbott, who has been finance minister since 1946, agreed to remain in that post.

He also said Mr. Pearson, 56, external affairs minister since 1948, feels he is doing the job to which he is best suited and hopes he will remain in his post.

The cabinet rearrangement will be accompanied by some shifts in deputy ministries, senior civil service posts.

R. B. Bryce, 43-year-old assistant deputy finance minister, will fill the vacant post of clerk of the Privy Council and secretary to the cabinet.

Mr. Bryce will fill the office left vacant before the election by the entry of State Secretary Pickersgill to the cabinet.

Sulphur matches began to replace flint and steel early in the 19th century.

FAROUK MAY BE TRIED IN ABSENTIA FOR MURDER

CAIRO, Egypt (UP)—A well-informed source said today former King Farouk may be tried in absentia for having "inspired" the murder of an Egyptian officer.

The source did not specify which court would try Farouk, but it was understood President Mohammed Naguib's government was considering formal charges against the deposed monarch.

He identified the slain officer as army Lieut. Abdel Kader Taha.

Freight Rates Appeal Rejected

OTTAWA (CP)—The seven-per-cent railway freight rate increase granted last March by the board of transport commissioners is here to stay.

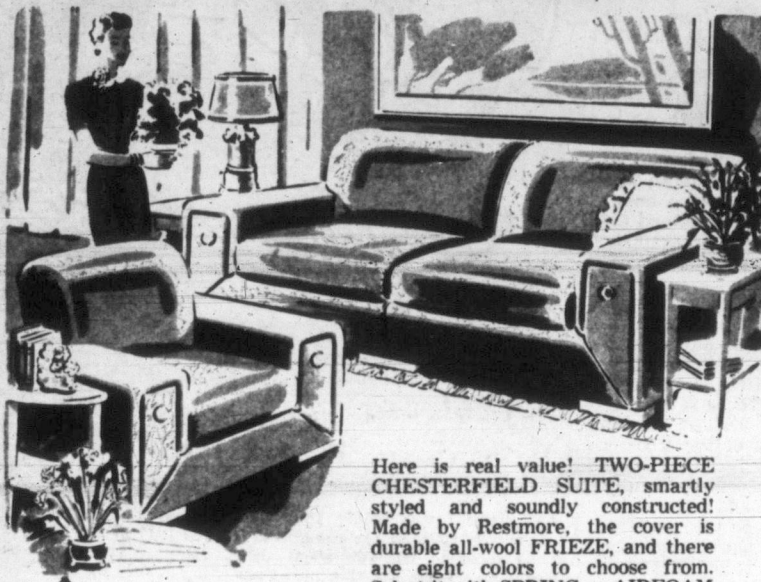

Prime Minister St. Laurent announced at a press conference Thursday night that the cabinet has rejected an appeal by eight provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—to rescind the rate increase which went into effect March 16.

The eight provinces which opposed the boost have no further recourse. However, strong protests against the increase are expected to be made at the coming session of Parliament by western and eastern members.

The provinces' appeal against the increase which amounts to about $38,500,000 a year was heard by the cabinet in May. It was the first full-dress attack before the government on a general freight rate increase since 1949, after the original postwar increase of 21 per cent. The board's tentative plan to equalize freight rates is slated to come into effect Jan. 1.

The Imperfect Charter

MR. DULLES HAS BEEN CRITICIZED, especially in Britain, for many of his speeches and policies. He cannot be criticized for lack of energy. For example, the American secretary of state, carrying burdens almost beyond human endurance, has recently found time to deliver a lawyer's lecture to the American Bar Association on the Charter of the United Nations, which he considers inadequate and "pre-atomic."

No doubt it is and every government in the world has known that fact since the Charter was drafted at San Francisco in the spring of 1945. But it was the best possible compromise between the rival principles of national sovereignty and world authority. The wonder is not that the Charter is weak in certain vital respects but that it has operated so successfully in a situation which its founders did not foresee.

The Charter was based on the assumption of agreement among the great powers, and to that end they were each given the right of unilateral veto, on matters of substance, in the Security Council. When Russia quickly revealed its true policy of expansion, its contempt of the Charter and its appetite for foreign territory, it appeared to many that the United Nations could not function at all.

But in the supreme crisis of the Korean war — where Russia was clearly testing the strength of the West — the United Nations repelled aggression and may well have prevented the Third World War.

It is true, of course, that a Russian blunder, the fortunate absence of its representative from the Security Council, prevented the use of the veto in that case, but even if the veto had been used it seems certain, in retrospect, that a way would have been found around this technical obstruction.

The fact emerging from eight years of bitter experience is that the peace-loving nations can work together, through the United Nations, despite the restrictions of the Charter if they have the will to do it. Any constitution, however perfect and foolproof its wording, is only as strong as the strength of those who accept it — of which the vague, amorphous constitution of Britain and the Commonwealth is a classic example. It works because the people governed by it wish it to work.

Since the United Nations Charter cannot be amended at present — Russia being able to veto any amendment — Mr. Dulles' discussion of these problems seems entirely academic, a lawyer's exercise. There is more to it than that. Mr. Dulles' interest in the legal aspects of the Charter shows how seriously his government regards the United Nations, how its foreign policy, more and more as the years pass, is based on the operation and growth of the world authority.

If its machinery is imperfect it is the only machinery through which the free nations can possibly reconcile their differences and thus confront together the powers that would destroy the United Nations if they could. Amendment of the Charter may be possible later on, if Russian policy changes. In the meantime the important thing, without which the free world will certainly fall to pieces, is to maintain collective security.

The Korean war has shown that it can be maintained within the imperfect but only instrument available.

Amalgamation Argument and Facts

THIS WEEK IN ESQUIMALT ratepayers of the district were given an outline of the Greater Victoria amalgamation scheme. It was presented to them in general terms by F. L. Shaw, now of the B.C. Power Commission, and formerly Victoria's city solicitor — a man who has devoted substantial study to the question.

During the meeting, Reeve A. C. Wurtele, speaking as a private citizen, quoted certain figures to imply that amalgamation would be prohibitively expensive to Esquimalt. At the same time he expressed justifiable pride in his municipality and raised the familiar argument that Esquimalt should not be submerged in the larger municipal unit.

If these two speakers proved anything at all, they proved the desirability of Mr. Shaw's earlier recommendation that a competent expert be employed to survey the whole amalgamation field in Greater Victoria and determine how each municipality would be affected by union, both financially and otherwise.

Clearly Reeve Wurtele was speaking at cross purposes with Mr. Shaw. Mr. Shaw has always maintained that no one knows what will be the exact profit or loss from unification of the different municipalities in Greater Victoria. His study of the question has not revealed these facts to him. The reeve, familiar as he may be with Esquimalt's own financing and able as he may be to draw certain comparisons from the balance sheets of other districts, cannot possibly have the whole picture before him. Without all the evidence, how can a compelling case be made? Where, without detailed and expert study, will protagonists of one side or the other find the irrefutable evidence to buttress their arguments?

After years of discussion certain points have emerged on the amalgamation issue. One of them is that services are being amalgamated now because present day conditions are forcing them. Schools, for instance, are administered under one board. Water supply, as opposed to distribution, is the responsibility of a single agency. Library service has become metropolitan in its scope. These and other community undertakings show the trend.

There are obvious sentimental objections held by some interests against unification of the municipalities into one metropolitan district. There are parochial considerations that sway others.

But the point remains that no argument for or against amalgamation can be conclusive unless the facts are known. The meeting in Esquimalt has underscored the need for a survey.

Under the circumstances it would be valuable to learn from the civic affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce how far it has gone in its endorsement of the survey recommended by Mr. Shaw. Has it, unknown to the public, assembled the fund required to hire an authority of outstanding repute? Or is the issue merely languishing on the committee file?

'Before You Invest ...'

VICTORIA HOUSEWIVES HAVE been adequately warned by the Chamber of Commerce against an expected invasion of the city by high-pressure vacuum cleaner salesmen. The visitors' plan, as worked in Vancouver, enlists the aid of the housewife in getting her neighbors and friends to buy cleaners, each sale providing money toward the housewife's payments for her own cleaner.

Trouble arises when the victim wants to get out of the deal and finds herself obligated not only to give up the machine she has partly paid for, but also to hand over a sizeable "financing" fee.

The basis of all fly-by-night schemes is the get-rich-quick or something-for-nothing motive. While contravening no written law, many schemes depend for their success on the ignorance of purchasers as to legal obligations involved, the glib descriptions that gloss over difficulties, and the normal human desire to beat the market. Many victims hide their indignation and dismay for fear of scorn, and this is one reason why questionable schemes can flourish as they do.

A moment's thought should convince any prospective purchaser that her best interests are served by patronizing the reputable merchants who have a permanent stake in her community, or sales representatives who can provide proof of their accredited association with reliable firms.

Two common slogans come to mind, both of which might well be tacked beside the front door of most homes as a reminder: "Forewarned is forearmed," and "Before you invest, investigate."

Retort Courteous

THE CANADIAN CONGRESS OF Labor has turned a cold shoulder, we are told, to a Toronto steel union's proposal that Canada petition the United States government for permission to become the 49th state. The 370,000-member congress voted solidly against the scheme, which, its protagonists declared, "would remove a lot of foolish arguments presented by employers against the same rates of pay as exist in the United States."

The attitude of the C.C.L. will be understood by most Canadians, whether it was adopted as a matter of sentiment or of more practical considerations.

But the congress might have softened the cold shoulder it gave the proposal with a gracious suggestion that the United States be invited to consider application for membership as additional provinces to Canada. Newfoundland seems to be doing very nicely under the arrangement of recent making. Why shouldn't our larger neighbor be shown a measure of the same courtesy? It would merely be a return of the compliment certain Americans have paid us.

'—And How're Things With You?'

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

LAST week I was telling you about Luchow's German Cookbook, and I had no room to tell you about their pumpkin pie. I like pumpkin pie at any season, and I hope you do too and won't ask me to hold this one back till October. It's simple and good (just like my heart). For a more-or-less 8-inch pie, you beat 1 cup mashed cooked pumpkin (or, of course, canned), 2 egg yolks, 1/4 cup brown sugar, 1/4 teaspoon each of powdered ginger and powdered cinnamon, 1/4 cup cream, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, and 2 tablespoons brandy or rum. Add 1/4 teaspoon salt to egg whites, whip stiff, fold into mixture. Fill pastry shell with mixture, bake at 450 for 15 minutes, lower to 325 and bake 30 minutes more. Too many pumpkin mixtures taste either like plain mud or like a spice-shop. This is neither.

WORDS, WORDS, WORDS

IN "A Word in Edgeways," Ivor Brown has got out the eighth volume of his little collections of essays on words. He swears this will be the final volume. He has sworn that oath before, and broken it. Indeed, the seventh volume was called "I Break My Word." But he seems to be more purposeful about stopping this time. And the essays themselves hint at an ending too, or at least a long rest, for they have got over so slightly tired, or the reader has, or both.

In the 125 pages you'll find several amusing remarks, and curious bits of research, and some generous appreciation of richness in words, and some good scoldings for the criminals who murder good words or coin bad ones. But in many ways the book's thinness is not confined to its physical measurement. And another thing: Ivor Brown has got so conscious of words; he no longer writes quite naturally. I bet each page has at least two words quite obviously dragged in.

NEVER mind, it is still worth reading. I was especially pleased by his guess at what a Rumpus Room may be... "a place where the children can knock hell out of everything, themselves included."

I like, too, being reminded (if ever I noticed it) that Ben Jonson was using "beat it" in the modern sense more than 300 years ago. And I am eternally grateful to him for pointing out the folly of the modern word "executive," meaning a man who makes decisions and issues orders as befits the big-shot that he is. Actually, an executive (or more properly an executor) would be a chap who carried out instructions laid down by somebody else.

I can't agree that the habit of addressing strangers as Mac is a Canadian invention, brought about by our huge proportion of Scots. Surely we borrowed it from the Americans, and not too long ago? Along with the habit of calling strangers Bud and Buster. Speaking of such meaningless rudeness or misplaced friendliness, do you remember when many schoolboys and quite a few grown men used to call each other Bo? Not Beau... just plain Bo. I wonder why. I also wonder why it pleased me, when I was seven or eight.

APTITUDE TEST

A neighbor and friend of mine is a postman. Or, as he says, a letter carrier... he is particularly about these technical terms, and when I refer to his "route" he gently reminds me that it isn't a "route" but a "walk." Well, just so long as I don't call it a hike, that's the main thing. Anyhow, he was telling me how he became a postie... sorry, a letter carrier. His eyes became too weak for indoor work. And I said yes, bad eyes are certainly a great advantage if you want to deliver mail to the wrong addresses... they go well with a grudge against society and a Marx Brothers temperament. But I pointed out that he could also have become a meter-reader.

TOUGH GUY

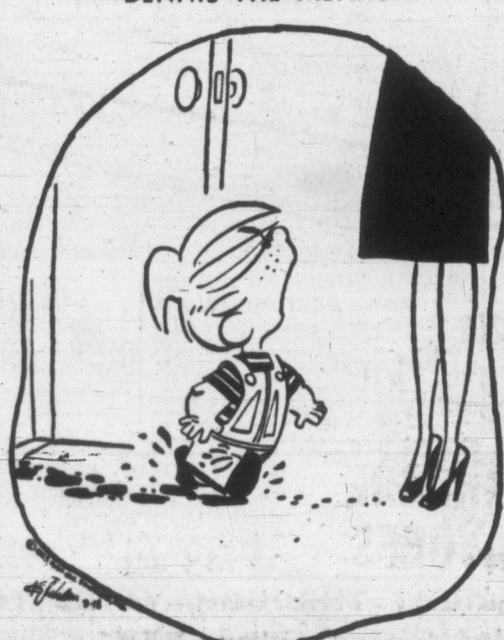

IF YOU eavesdrop on nine-year-old girls, you hear a terrible amount of giggling and other nerve-racking silliness. But once in a while your dishonest prying gets a reward and proves that crime does pay after all. For example, this morning a nine-year-old was leaving my house, fully armed and trying to swagger and tiptoe at the same time. She muttered to herself "I'm a detective homified." She patted her weapon and said "Got my 25 snooter." Now, I suppose that "homified" means "homicide" and "snooter" means "shooter," though 25 calibre hasn't much stopping-power... perhaps she meant the magazine held 25 rounds.

But I like to think that "homified" means "turned into a man," which is exactly what this female was, for a moment. As for "snooter," well, a policeman could get extremely snooty because of his pistol. He wouldn't go round shooting people, but he certainly could go round snooting them.

GO AHEAD AND TRY IT

AMONG the hundreds of good things in Sir David Kelly's memoirs, "The Ruling Few," there is an excellent and highly topical point made against the Egyptians who wish to control the Sudan and the Sudanese. When Sir David was High Commissioner in Cairo between the two wars, he found that while Egyptian politicians talked a lot about their rights and duties in the Sudan, no Egyptian is willing to go and live there! To the Egyptian, the climate of the Sudan is torture. Egyptians feel tortured very easily; it is their national hobby. As for the call of duty... well, the only voice that ever called Egyptians into the Sudan was the call of graft, and under the British this was rather hard to manage.

As Our Readers See It

WEAK IN SPIRIT

When is the government going to give us back the pre-war liquor? It's 30 under now. Let us put in our own water.
J. B. DAVIDSON.

FUEL PRICE

A local firm is manufacturing and offering for sale "a type of fuel" which is made up from sawdust—a waste product. The price at which these logs are selling works out at $75 a cord—pretty expensive fuel, eh? Is it a wonder labor keeps demanding higher and higher wages? The public should know what it is being asked to pay.
DISGUSTED.

SONS OF FREEDOM

If there is one lesson mankind should have learnt it is that forcing religious fanatics to act against their religious belief is impossible. The Romans, although they fed some to the lions, failed. The Roman Catholics, later, using the rack and thumbscrews, etc., lost out. In our day and age have we not given in to the C.O.I.

How then can Bennett and friends succeed? Could we ask the United Nations to suggest some sparsely populated country where these people could settle—or is there not some island—where these people could grow food and support themselves? We should transport them—provide food and implements to live their own lives in their own strange way.
SUBSCRIBER.

MILK DECONTROL

Safeway Stores and the Bennett government appear to desire milk decontrol because it will mean cheaper milk for the public, better quality, and more efficient distributing methods. Commendable aims, if they are the only ones.

But there is some doubt these aims will be realized. A previous government and the oil companies made similar promises in the case of gas and fuel oil, just before control and naturally competition will force down the price. It was to be, oh, so simple! Well, of course, all know what happened. The price of gas and oil has gone up ever since. The competition seems to have been cast aside for co-operation among the oil men to raise prices.

To avoid the price of milk sharply rising later on a maximum price could be set at, say today's price, and a minimum quality set also. Doing this should please everyone if Safeway and Mr. Bennett mean what they say.

The distributors and the government should not mind because they claim decontrol will mean lower prices anyway. The farmers would be in favor as they are to be guaranteed, and rightly so, a minimum price. The consumers would be protected against any large price increase such as in the case of gas and oil.

Here is a chance for the Bennett regime to try out its theory and to protect the people at the same time. But will they do it?
H. C. TODD.

PROHIBITION DIFFERENCES

At this time it would be well if everyone could read "The Amazing Story of Repeal," by Fletcher Dobyns. Anticipated changes in the Liquor Act will undoubtedly involve increased distribution and consumption of alcohol in spite of all good intentions. The author was special assistant attorney-general of the U.S. 1911-21-22-26.

Contrary to the general opinion prohibition in the U.S.A. was a success. It reduced consumption of alcohol about 80 per cent with a similar 80 per cent reduction in monies spent for liquor, p. 382. This in spite of weaknesses in the Volstead Enforcement Act.

The financial saving to the U.S. during the era of prohibition has been estimated conservatively at 72 billion dollars, p. 388. Not an economist in the U.S. could be found who would oppose prohibition on economic grounds, p. 389. Why was prohibition repealed? Sworn testimony before the Lobby Investigating Committee of the U.S. Senate 71st Congress revealed that a group of American industrialists by propaganda methods used their influence to bring about the repeal of prohibition expecting thereby to increase the sale and taxes on liquor and thus bring about a corresponding reduction of their income taxes, pp. 18, 19.

Misconceptions of the public concerning prohibition which have persisted are based upon the following false premises: That prohibition caused the depression, p. 390. Actually the depression was world wide.

That prohibition led to crime, bootlegging, gangsters, etc. True—facts are cited on pp. 369, 371-373. Organized crime was well established in the U.S. long before prohibition days and had come about partly as the result of strife between capital and labor.

That repeal of prohibition would reduce lawlessness. The reverse is proved to be true, pp. 422-430.

That prohibition (or in our case what measure of restriction of distribution still exists) is an infringement upon personal liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The reverse is true, 431-436.

"No other poison (alcohol) causes so many deaths or leads to or intensifies so many diseases both physical and mental as does alcohol in the various forms in which it is taken," quoting Dr. Emil Bogen, p. 434.

BACK 25 YEARS

Why is it the Doukhobors are creating such a problem for Mr. Bennett and his government when he told the people time and again that he would solve this very simply as past governments just didn't know how to handle these unruly citizens?

Isn't it the truth that any good past governments did have all been brought to naught by the sheer stupidity of Mr. Bennett? All he has succeeded in doing is to create a farce and tragedy of a difficult problem and reduce it to the level of some 25 years ago, when Mr. Pooley, then attorney-general, had hundreds of them transported to Piers Island.

Will Mr. Bennett and his ministers never learn what a government, if it can be called such, is? Or is this Social Credit?

IN APPRECIATION

May we ask the courtesy of your columns on behalf of the Kiwanis Club of Victoria North to convey our sincere thanks and appreciation of the support given by the general public to the Appliance Show.

These very substantial contributions to Kiwanis charity funds are entirely free of any personal expenses. All proceeds from the show will be used for community work in Greater Victoria, no labor costs or expenses of any kind being deducted.

May we also convey our thanks for the help and co-operation of the local members of the Royal Canadian Navy and the Hudson's Bay Company, whose time and services were entirely donated.

LIQUOR PLEBISCITE

The provincial government got a mandate from the people by the 1932 plebiscite in which the different areas stated whether or not they wished a change and general liberalization from the present methods of distribution and consumption. With very few exceptions all areas voted overwhelmingly in favor of a change.

We again have the "Greater Victoria Citizens' Association" asking the government for further plebiscites on a local option basis.

Surely the democratic wishes of the people as a whole should take precedence over narrow sectional opinions and interests?

The GVCA no doubt are endeavoring to create confusion, confounded to defeat the democratic wishes of the people as expressed by plebiscite 15 months ago.

CLERK BEFORE MANAGER

The important issue as we see it, is not what salary it is right to pay the city manager, but the need for one. It is an American idea, and contrary to the practice of the best British traditions. How to get efficiency in our civic government is not going to be determined, for long, by employment of a city manager.

In a small way, the best example of efficient management we have seen in this territory, is that established by the late municipal clerk of Oak Bay municipality, in the person of Mr. Blandy. We need to train men for municipal executive office, who can advise their municipal council, from their storehouse of experience and tradition. I suggest there is no place in the City of Victoria for a city manager, plus a city clerk, and their respective departments, all of which add to the confusion which now exists at the City Hall. The City Hall is still much over-staffed. I should like to see the city manager idea dropped, and the city clerk placed in full control; then get busy with the creation of a new Municipal Act, patterned after the manner of the Local Government Act of England.

'Hardly the Case With Sam'

Edmonton Journal

THE release of Sam Carr, the last of the Canadians imprisoned as a result of the great 1945 espionage scandal, is bound to raise disturbing questions about Canada's parole system.

Carr is a veteran Communist, and a former organizing secretary of the so-called Labor-Progressive Party. In the 1930's, he was sentenced to three years' imprisonment for sedition. The royal commission on espionage described him as "along with (Fred) Rose the main Canadian cog" in the Soviet spy ring which was exposed by Igor Gouzenko. Yet despite all this, he has been released after serving only four years and seven months of the six-year sentence imposed on him in 1949.

One of the traditional reasons for releasing a prisoner before the expiration of his sentence is that he appears to have learned his lesson, and is not likely to get into any more trouble.

This is hardly the case with Sam Carr. As soon as he left the penitentiary, he told reporters that he was still a Communist, and that he believed "the world still needs changing"—presumably into the shape of the Soviet dictatorship. Thus he served notice plainly enough that he remains the professional revolutionary he has been ever since he came to this country from Russia.

In view of the man's record and present attitude, it seems amazing that he was turned loose so casually. The only reason given was "good behavior" in prison. This confirms a widespread suspicion that any convict who observes the penitentiary regulations and refrains from trying to escape or "sassing" the warden, is likely to be released ahead of time without any real inquiry as to whether he is likely to resume his career of crime.

There is something altogether too mechanical and careless about a system which allows a dangerous and unrepentant fanatic like Sam Carr to regain his liberty so easily.

Many will wonder, too, whether the government is giving any thought to the possibility of deporting Carr to his beloved Russia.

To do nothing at all is the most difficult thing in the world, the most difficult and the most intellectual.
—Oscar Wilde.

EYE TO MODESTY

A Chinese girl would never dream of referring to herself in print as "I"—that would be very immodest. Even in a letter to my father I would call myself "small daughter Jade Snow," and would write these characters smaller than the rest of the letter.

—Jade Snow Wong, young American-Chinese author.

'Run, Rabbit, Run'

I GUESS our family just isn't the frontier type. When we're out at the lake in the hunting season, the kids have a little prayer that echoes to each blast of a gun: "Hope he missed."

They've seen the game growing up. They've watched does step daintily down to the water to drink and they've fallen in love with fawns in the Walt Disney stage of dappled awkwardness. Though they haven't seen many grouse chicks, they've followed the growth of young quail and they figure game birds are all the same family. It doesn't please them to think of either deer or birds being killed.

There's not much logic in their attitude. We're beefeaters in our family and when we carve into the week-end roast we never drop a tear over the death of an animal that was once an attractive little calf. Still we're all singing "Run, rabbit, run" when it comes to hunting wildlife. That's just one of our kinks.

It's all very inconsistent. I don't recall anyone turning down a hunk of venison—unless it was too high—or refusing grouse. We don't go for wild ducks, though. We're not fussy about fish.

ANXIOUS RESPECT

But if we haven't too much affection for hunters as hunters, we respect their powers of destruction. Come hunting season, and the family stays close to the shack at the lake. On those occasions when the kids have to go along the trail to the store, we clothe one in an old scarlet sweater and the other wears a red cap. We tell them to sing continuously and to step up the volume if there's a grouse in the vicinity. Where there's a grouse there may be a dozen or so hunters and it's just no place to be unless you have a gun or some weapon of defense.

Our procedure scares the game away. There's no question of that. The result is highly satisfactory to us—no game, no hunters, no danger.

But we realize, too, that people are going hunting and the law lets too many go into the woods with guns.

PLEDGE

So we're interested in the routine arranged by the South Vancouver Island Rangers for their juniors. Each of the young people pledges himself to uphold the Firearms Code set forth by the group. It reads as follows:

"I will cock my gun and squeeze the trigger only when I am aiming at the target which I intend to shoot.

"I will unload my gun and open the action as soon as I finish shooting and before I move from the firing line.

"I will immediately make sure that any gun I handle is not loaded.

"I will shoot only on a safe rifle range or, if hunting, only at legal game in places where persons and property are not endangered.

"I will unload and open my gun before I climb a tree, a fence, or similar obstacle.

"I will remember that a .22 calibre bullet will travel for one mile, that it will go through nine inches of ordinary board; and that it will ricochet a long way across water.

"I will 'play it safe' at any time when I am in doubt of the proper action with a gun.

"I will see that everyone around me obeys these rules for the safety and good of all.

"I will give my help to any less skilful shooter and will seek the advice of better marksmen for myself.

"I will observe all Game Laws and Firearms Regulations and will do my part to uphold the good name of the South Vancouver Island Rangers."

If they won't stay home and read the Three Bears instead, that seems a pretty fair code for a youngster to pack into the woods.

Holding the Line at Geneva

A MINIMUM OF A YEARS extension to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade is a primary objective of the Canadian delegation to the GATT meetings now in progress at Geneva. At the end of this year the tariff concessions negotiated at Torquay are no longer binding, hence another round of tariff negotiations such as those that took place at Torquay must be held soon.

The Canadians hope that the status quo can be maintained for at least a year. At the end of that period it is felt in official circles here that the situation in the United States will have clarified and President Eisenhower may be in a position to begin reducing American tariff barriers.

Meantime the Canadian delegation will strive at the Geneva meetings to hold the line on tariffs. When the delegation left Ottawa no new tariff concessions were in prospect and none were expected from other participating countries at the GATT meetings.

Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of trade and commerce, is at the head of the Canadian delegation. Long an advocate of international trade agreements, the minister, who ranks second in the Canadian cabinet to the prime minister, is a strong supporter of GATT.

During the recent federal election campaign he stressed the importance of free trade and low tariff barriers if Canada was to continue to prosper. His decision to take time off from his duties in Ottawa to travel to Geneva indicates the great importance which the Canadian government attaches to GATT and the continuation of this unique international agreement.

With Mr. Howe at Geneva is Dr. Claude Robitaille, head of the International Trade Relations Branch of the Trade and Commerce department. He is the senior government official from Ottawa in attendance. He has taken a leading part at previous sessions of GATT as a Canadian negotiator.

Another outstanding champion of a free exchange of goods in Canada's corner at the meetings is Dana Wilgress, Canadian representative at NATO. He was chairman of GATT from 1948 to 1951 and undoubtedly will make a valuable contribution to the negotiations now under way.

The Canadian view as expressed by officials here prior to the opening of the Geneva meeting is that the present agreement should be extended. A six months' extension, they believed, would be too short, while an extension beyond a year might tend to stall off too long the time when the nations should engage in another round of multilateral tariff negotiations. On these grounds the Canadians would be happy if the present meetings at Geneva see a year's extension to the present agreement.

The future of GATT depends upon developments in the United States. Our neighbor to the south has to provide the leadership in seeking the solution to the problems of international trade and payments.

The United States represents about one-half of the economy of the whole world. Without leadership from that nation the world faces the danger of dividing into regional blocs. The blocs would erect barriers discriminating against the others. The resultant confusion would bring economic instability which in turn would lead to political instability.

Consequently until the United States policy has been worked out by the new Eisenhower administration with congressional authority the participating nations of GATT can only hold the line. Once the new administration in the United States gets tariff reducing powers authorized then the time can begin for tariff bargaining.

The Dearth of Movies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What are actors doing about the dearth of movie-making in Hollywood?

I put this question to William Holden, an actor who is busy enough himself, but still has concern for his fellow craftsmen. He is a vice-president of the Screen Actors' Guild.

"What can we do?" he asked. "We cannot create employment. All we can do is wait until they call us for work."

Holden admitted that the situation looks grim for those who seek acting jobs in the studios. "MGM will make 18 pictures in the coming year, compared to 40 and 50 in the past," he remarked. "Paramount will make 12 and Fox 12. The plain fact is that there won't be enough work to go around."

"But the actor has traditionally been a very resilient sort of a person. He has always been able to move around and find jobs somewhere else in the country."

"Television has provided a great deal of work for actors, both live and on film. Many actors who once worked only in Hollywood now live in New York. They can do TV there and come out here when they are needed for pictures."

"The stage offers a lot more work, particularly in the summer time. Alexis Smith and Victor Jory just came back from a long tour and made a lot of money. Other stars have done the same."

"The night clubs are booming, too. Not only in Las Vegas, where the business is terrific. In other towns, too. People like Van Johnson, who haven't sung and danced before audiences in years, are going out and making big successes."

"So don't worry about actors. They generally make out all right."

Police attended 90 traffic accidents in Victoria during August according to traffic division reports to the Police Commission Thursday.

There were 71 auto-auto collisions, 11 auto-pedestrian accidents, five in which autos hit fixed objects and three auto-bicycle collisions. Twenty-six persons suffered injuries in these accidents. There were no deaths arising from them.

ISLAND DIGEST

DUNCAN—J. S. Lawrence reported to the Chamber of Commerce this week that a fishing derby will be arranged in early October at Cowichan Bay for delegates to the Canadian Tourist Association convention in Victoria and Vancouver.

CHEMINUS—Newly installed officers of Cheminus Kinsmen Club are James Syme Jr., president; Helge Staffanson, vice-president; Allan Humphreys, secretary; Bill Syme, treasurer; Murra Poskitt, bulletin editor; Joe Carmichael, Alex McAulay and Pete Dubinsky, directors.

DUNCAN—R. H. Moore, Cowichan Indian Agency superintendent now on pre-retirement leave, will retire officially in 1954.

His successor has not been named. Acting superintendent of the Cowichan office, with 2,700 Indians in its care, is Ken R. Brown, West Vancouver. Assistant is Geoffrey Munro, formerly of Port Alberni.

BRENTWOOD—B.C. Cement Co. Ltd. officials at Bamerton have told Central Saanich Chamber of Commerce that a dust arrester will be installed on the new plant nearing completion, but must wait until necessary funds have been approved in the 1954 budget. Head office of the company is in England.

PORT ALBERNI—Plans have been made by the Coast Small Operators' Association for Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi and district engineer Neil McCallum to fly over the route of the Alberni-Tofino road Saturday.

The Victoria party will fly directly to Tofino in the morning. After drives to Long Beach and Kennedy Lake, the party will fly from the coast to Sprout Lake over the road route desired by the logging operators.

GANGES—Lieut. Arthur L. Gale, 27, who has completed eight months' service with the PPCLI in Korea, has been appointed administration officer with the Canadian Military Mission, Far East, in Tokyo.

Second World War veteran and UBC graduate, he is the son of Lieut.-Col. R. L. Gale, MC and Bar, Vesuvius Bay.

LADYSMITH—Robert Strachan, Nanaimo, MLA, will open the fall fair of Saltair Garden Club Saturday at 2 p.m. at Sunny Service Hall.

NANAIMO—A section of a Douglas fir tree from Deep Lake, near Alberni, in 1949, displayed at the fall fair here by MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd., was 1,104 years old when cut.

A companion section was from a 759-year-old western red cedar felled at Kennedy Lake in 1950.

NEW WESTMINSTER (BUP)—Funeral services were scheduled for Saturday for Mrs. Mary Jane Burr, New Westminster, who died Wednesday in her 100th year.

Mrs. Burr had been a resident of the royal city for 76 years. She is survived by two sons, four daughters, 12 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Trieste Spot Seen Cooling

WASHINGTON (UP)—U.S. officials saw signs today that fiery Italian and Yugoslav tempers are cooling to the point where the two governments may soon renew their search for a solution to the Trieste controversy.

Among the signs are the fact that Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito has not ordered new forces into the disputed area, Italian Premier Giuseppe Pella has been using slightly more moderate language in discussing the trouble spot, and Italy has withdrawn some of the troops she sent to the Italian-Yugoslav frontier.

These developments have caused worried U.S. officials to breathe more easily. Some had feared the recent flareup over Trieste might start shooting between the two nations.

Bevan Says Churchill, Ike 'Misleaders of Mankind'

LONDON (UP)—Aneurin Bevan, leader of the left wing of the British Labor party, attacked the United States and Russia today as "misleaders of mankind."

He charged that President

Eisenhower and Prime Minister Winston Churchill, "the two most powerful western leaders," seem overwhelmed by events.

Bevan wrote in the left-wing weekly Tribune two weeks before the annual Labor party conference in which he will vie for power with the right wing and the trade unions.

Bevan said western diplomacy has tried to establish the prewar social pattern in Europe that led to Adolf Hitler. He asked how the west expected the same result not to come about.

"A United Germany would have resulted in the success of a moderate type of Socialism after the fashion of British labor," Bevan said. "But this does not suit the Soviet leaders any more than it suits the United States."

"By destroying civilized alternatives, these two misleaders of mankind have recreated just those conditions that led to the Second World War," he said.

'TRADE SECRET OLD MAN'

U.K. Magician Forecasts

News Breaks Week Ahead

EDINBURGH (Reuters)—British magician Peter Warlock last week correctly predicted the main items in a BBC news bulletin Thursday night.

Warlock, who is attending the International Brotherhood of Magicians' convention here, made his predictions and sealed them in an envelope.

They were opened five minutes before the news bulletin Thursday night at a civic reception given by the lord provost of Edinburgh, Sir James Miller, and pinned up in full view of the guests.

A few minutes later they heard the news bulletin—and saw five of Warlock's headlines on the prediction were correct.

Warlock's forecasts were: The finding of Mrs. Melinda MacLean's car in Lausanne, Switzerland; John Foster Dulles, the United States secretary of state, opening United Nations debate; the lowering of the Bank of England rate; Premier Nehru's statement on Korea; and the word "Nice"—accepted to mean Sir Winston Churchill's visit to the south of France.

How was it done? "Trade secret, old man," said Warlock.

B.C. Education System Critics Under Fire

CCF Leader Arnold Webster lashed out at critics of the province's education system in an address to the Legislature on Thursday.

Most criticism, he said, is "cowardly and unfair" because it is not supported by evidence. The former school principal agreed there are critics who are honestly trying to raise the standards and improve procedures.

"But the attacks that are resented are the irresponsible and emotional outbursts of those who say 'Communism is being taught in our schools.' The implication, of course, is that Communism is not only being explained but is also being advocated."

He said to "teach does not mean to recommend."

"The good instructor explains but does not advocate," Mr. Webster said. "I trust that no men or women in this Legislature will ever slander the teaching profession by implying that certain men and women in our schools are traitors to this country. Such criticism is cowardly and unfair unless supported by evidence."

He urged everybody to be on guard against those who would undermine the education system for their own sinister purposes.

FOUR CATEGORIES

He said they can be classified in four categories:

1. Enemies of democracy who are determined to break down Canadian institutions. Politically, they are found on both the extreme left and extreme right.

2. Cynics and sceptics who mistrust the human intellect and have no faith in the power of reason. These are the people, he said, who say one doesn't have to understand, he just has to believe.

3. Anti-social and short-sighted businessmen who blame public expenditures on social services, including education, for high taxes.

4. Opponents of non-sectarian schools who exaggerate weaknesses in order to discredit present policies in education.

Mr. Webster said the House should be given a copy of report on education financing prepared by a deputy ministers' committee under instruction of the Coalition government.

"This is the report the Sacred government refused to table at the spring session."

MORAL OBLIGATION

"Surely the government has a moral obligation to make public the findings of these responsible officials," he said.

Mr. Webster was unhappy about the government talk of selling the government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

He said any attempt to alter the status of the line should be discussed by the Legislature.

"We don't want any hole-in-the-corner deals on this," he said.

World Lost to Arctic Sailors

Until a week or so ago, a young law student who is visiting Victoria today didn't know: (a) that fighting had ended in Korea; (b) that his father had been re-elected an MP on August 10.

Summering aboard an arctic supply ship, 22-year-old John Pearkes, son of Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, MP for Esquimalt-Saanich, and Mrs. Pearkes, was cut off from the civilized world for almost three months.

Eskimos, polar bears and great white whales became commonplace during the voyage, which took the federal transport department vessel C. D.

Howe to well within the arctic circle, a bare few hundred miles from the north pole. Mr. Pearkes was a crew member. The voyage started in June, at Montreal. Traveling east, then north around the vast bays of Labrador, Quebec and into Hudson Bay, the ship rested briefly at Churchill, Man.

From Churchill she plunged on to Craig Harbor on Ellesmere Island, near the top of the world. She returned from there to Quebec after paying 25 exciting calls to isolated settlements, wireless stations, Hudson Bay posts and small hospitals.

As well as supplies, the vessel carried doctors and dentists to treat the natives. One with a heart ailment had to be brought out.

No trouble was encountered; a ship-based helicopter ranging ahead to plot a course through the seas of floating ice.

Mr. Pearkes, who returns to UBC this month won't sign on for another Arctic voyage however. He says, "The 9,000 mile trip was interesting if you like rock, snow and Eskimos, but as far as I'm concerned, one look was enough."

Railmen's Pay Policy Rapped By Unionist

MONTREAL (BUP)—A decision by 150,000 railway workers to hold the line on current wages was described today as "definitely a bad move" for organized labor coast to coast.

Alex McAuslane, a former vice-president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said the majority of the nation's trade unions would drive for higher wages next year despite the decision.

"We've got to keep driving," McAuslane told a reporter at the Mount Royal Hotel, where the 370,000-strong congress winds up its 13th annual convention today.

"We've got to keep money in circulation," he said. "There is no danger of a stop in production increases. We've got to keep the country prosperous or we will lose in our fight against Communism."

Frank H. Hall, chairman of the negotiating brotherhood for the non-operational railway unions, announced Thursday after a two-day meeting that for the first time in 20 years no pay increases will be sought in contract talks for 1954.

Parts of Bodies Found in Wreck Of N.M. Plane

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (AP)—Parts of the bodies of two women were found Thursday by a shore party from the Coast Guard cutter Kimball searching the beaches of Boca de Quadra for Ellis Hall, missing New Mexico oilman, and four other plane crash victims.

A terse message from the Kimball said the remains are believed to be those of Mrs. Hall and one of her two daughters.

Originator of vaccination was Edward Jenner, English physician who died in 1823.

Chuck Not Fooled

Yanks as Good As Ever—Dressen

New York Yankees haven't fooled Charley Dressen by losing one game to Cleveland and two out of three to St. Louis Browns under his watchful eyes.

The Brooklyn manager, who has been doing some personal world series scouting from a Yankee Stadium box, declared Thursday:

"They look about the same as last year."

As for his own ball club, Dressen said:

"I think we're better than last year."

But he added quickly:

"I don't say we're going to win. But if we can put the same fellows on the field we were using a couple of weeks ago and if we can get the pitching, I think we're better than they are."

A year ago the Yankees beat the Dodgers in a seven-game series.

The American League champions bowed 1-0 to Bob Lemon of Cleveland; split a twin bill with the Browns, losing 5-3 and winning 3-2, and lost to the Browns Thursday, 7-1.

SECOND STRINGERS

Against the Browns Casey Stengel used a flock of his Yankee second stringers. They couldn't do much against the Browns' Don Larsen, who set them down with four hits while winning his fifth straight game.

"Our scouts don't get to see them very often," Dressen observed. "I was glad to get the chance."

Dressen said he understood that Johnny Podres, one of his young pitchers who has been injured, was fit again and said he was going to see Carl Furillo Saturday. Furillo, the league's leading hitter, has been out of action for two weeks with a broken finger.

100TH TRIUMPH

Because of his self-imposed scouting duties, Dressen was on hand to see his club win its 100th game of the season in St. Louis Thursday. A three-run ninth inning rally gave Carl Erskine his 20th victory by a 4-3 margin as Wayne Belardi singled home the tying and winning runs.

In other action Thursday the Red Sox edged Detroit 2-1, Washington shamed Chicago White Sox 3-2 as Bob Portfield won his 21st victory, and Cleveland beat Philadelphia Athletics for the 19th time this year, 5-4, in the American League. Philadelphia Phillies smothered Chicago Cubs 16-4 in the National.

Ted Williams belted his 13th home run with a man aboard in the eighth inning for Boston's victory.

Major League Threat Dissipates

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pacific Coast League directors assembling here Thursday for Friday's annual meeting, expressed the belief the loop will operate in 1954 under open classification and with the same eight clubs.

They expressed the opinion that any threat of immediate major league invasion of this area has been dissipated by Bill Veeck's implied purpose to move his St. Louis Browns to Baltimore, now that he has permission from the American League.

BOUDREAU ASSURED OF THREE-YEAR PACT

BOSTON (UP)—The Boston Post said today that Lou Boudreau has been assured he will continue to manage the Boston Red Sox for three more years at an annual salary of $60,000.

Only formality, the newspaper said, was the actual signing of the contract which will occur either after the team has clinched fourth place in the American League or a few hours after the closing of the season.

HOW THE YANKEES GET THAT WAY

'Case' Has a Way With Kids

By FRED DOWN (Part Two of a Series)

NEW YORK (UP)—Casey Stengel earned recognition as one of the great managers of all time and the first to guide a team to five straight pennants because of "an unusual ability to handle young players," according to general manager George Weiss of the Yankees.

"There is no point in discussing whether Casey is one of the great managers," Weiss said. "His record is in the books for anybody to read. The point that is interesting is why he is one of the greats."

Nimrods Bag Blue Grouse Limits

Arriving in the Cowichan Lake area right on time for the opening of the blue grouse season last week-end, five Island snipers returned home with 60 grouse, two-day limits for each man. The straight-shooting quartet, left to right, Larry Ross, Lake Cowichan;

Bud Page, Victoria; Norm Goyette, Victoria; Vern Thompson, Lake Cowichan, and Charlie Thom, Victoria, are not disclosing the location of the well-populated grouse haven—except to say it is near the Robertson River.

ON FIRST LINE

Earl Reibel Catches on With Wings

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—Earl Dutch Reibel, who topped the Western Hockey League in scoring last season, appeared to have won a starting spot on the first line of Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League.

General manager Jack Adams announced Thursday the 23-year-old Kitchener, Ont., centre will start between forwards Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay in an exhibition game against Edmonton Saturday.

Howe and Lindsay finished first and second in the NHL scoring race last season.

Saturday's game will be the first of four exhibitions between the Red Wings and Edmonton, respective champions of the NHL and WHL.

$100,000 Gate Likely For Welter Title Bout

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UP)—Kid Gavilan, who dislikes aggressive opponents, will defend his welterweight title here tonight against headlining, slam-bang Carmen Basilio in the first world championship fight staged in central New York.

The nationally televised and broadcast 15-rounder will be fought in the same beautiful war memorial auditorium where Cuban Gavilan lost a non-title decision to another "pressing" opponent, Danny (Bang-Bang) Womber, May 2.

Promoter Norman Rothchild expects the combination of Gavilan's May defeat and Basilio's hell-for-leather style to attract a gate of between $80,000 and $100,000 and set a new record for the area. A sell-out of the 9,200 seats would provide $105,000. In addition, $50,000 has been paid for the radio-TV rights.

Italian Basilio, son of a nearby onion farmer, is a converted southpaw whose furious hooking attack to body and head won the N.Y. State welterweight title in a bout here with ex-world challenger Billy Graham on June 6. Basilio, 26, kept the state diadem on a 12-round draw in his return bout with Graham here July 25.

Should brown-haired, hatchet-faced Basilio of neighboring Canastota, N.Y., upset the Cuban hawk tonight and take the world crown, Gavilan will not get an immediate return shot at it. The winner must defend within 60 days against Johnny Bratton of Chicago, according to official edicts of the National Boxing Association and New York Commission.

"We completely disregarded the derogatory things that were written and said about Stengel," Weiss recalled. "We knew he was one of the finest baseball men in the country. He is 100 per cent baseball. He lives it day and night and has no outside interests."

"Moreover," Weiss continued, "we knew that Casey was willing to place unlimited confidence in young players and we required a manager who was skilled at working with young players."

Harris, who led the Yankees to a pennant in 1947, had been fired at the end of the 1948 season. Then the Yankees startled the baseball world with the announcement that Stengel—who never had come close to winning a pennant as a big league manager—was their new manager.

The man who was to lead the Yankees to their greatest accomplishment came to the team labelled as a clown—"baseball's funny man."

It was Weiss who suggested that Stengel be appointed the new manager but the self-effacing general manager insists on using the pronoun "we" when recalling the steps leading to Casey's appointment.

Bantams Give City Third Boxla Title

It's been a banner season for local minor lacrosse clubs.

Unable to capture more than one British Columbia championship title in any previous season, the Mann Cup aspirants of tomorrow have annexed three provincial crowns this year.

Oak Bay bantams Thursday became the third team to reach the lofty pedestal, whipping Vancouver, 10-2, in a sudden-death final at Kerrisdale Arena. Stubbs previously won the pee wee title and Victoria Juvenile B All-Stars added the B.C. honor in their section at Memorial Arena Tuesday night.

In another championship game at Vancouver Thursday, Victoria Juvenile A All-Stars, under the guidance of Sarge Sammartino, dropped a 6-3 decision to New Westminster.

SHOWERS NETS THREE

Paced by the three-goal scoring effort of Jack Showers and backed by the sparkling goal-keeping of Terry Varcoe, the local bantam team controlled play throughout the contest.

Tom Collett added two markers for Victoria while Dallas Lansfield, Barry Waters, Barry Loughlean, Jim Galbraith and Stu Walker got singletons.

In the junior playoff Victoria and New Westminster were tied at 1-1 at third as solid blocking by Don Hamilton for Victoria and Jim Rutherford for New Westminster kept the scoring to a minimum.

However, the winners came back strong in the last half, scoring five goals to Victoria's two for their margin of victory.

Ed Longpre, Bill Branson and Ed Kowalyk each notched one counter for Victoria.

Button Golf Match Sunday

The city senior golf buttons are scheduled to go on the block again Sunday. Joe Pryke and Jack Clark of Gorge Vale Golf Club will make their first defense against the challenge of Colwood's Jim Robertson and Bill Court at Uplands Golf Club.

Pryke and Clark won the buttons from Bill McCall and Vic Painter on the 19th hole last Sunday.

Tee-off time is 1.30.

REJOINS HABS

MONTREAL (UP)—Johnny (Goose) McCormack, whose "swack" check drives attacking forwards into tantrums, was back in the camp of the Montreal Canadiens today for the 1953-54 National Hockey League season.

The young players with whom Stengel worked were catcher Yogi Berra, infielders Gil McDougald, Gerry Coleman, Joe Collins and Billy Martin; outfielders Mickey Mantle and Hank Bauer and such pitchers as Whitey Ford and Tom Gorman. Each proved a key man in at least one pennant victory. As a result, Casey is still enjoying the best and the last laugh at the expense of his critics.

STRICT CALORIC COUNT KEEPS CLUB CONDITIONED

Petes' Formula No Secret

By DENNY BOYD

With the Peterborough Trailermen, currently engaged in the Canadian lacrosse series with Victoria Shamrocks, there is a lot more to lacrosse than goals, sticks and shoulder pads.

They even bring meat and spuds into their Mann Cup-winning system.

While playing coach Bobby Thorpe and manager Pup Curtin supervise the business of winning games, it is personable Dr. John Epping, club physician, who sees that the players have happy stomachs during games.

The good doctor sees to it no player sups on a hamburger and a milk shake an hour before game time and then comes down with gastritis in the first quarter.

On game days, the Petes have their own training table, supervised by Dr. Epping.

At 4 in the afternoon, all players assemble at the table where they are served a meal that consists of 1,000 calories.

And supervised or not, the meal is not at all hard to take. It consists of orange juice, nine ounces of steak, baked potato and ice cream.

Immediately after the afternoon meal, every player—and there are no exceptions—retires to his room for an hour's sleep. Then to the game.

For breakfast, the doctor recommends orange juice and bacon and eggs. Lunch consists of roast beef, baked potato and ice cream. Dr. Epping cites ice cream as a source of quick energy.

This diet is no hit-or-miss formula; Dr. Epping worked it out to the last crumb and calorie.

"We try to give the players 40 per cent of their daily caloric requirements in their last meal before a game," he explains.

The only other special rule the club observes is that the smoking lamp is definitely out between periods in the dressing room.

The doctor, a graduate of Toronto University, has been with the Peterborough club for two and a half years and has played a large part in their two successive Mann Cups.

A former athlete himself, he played football with Woodstock and baseball in North-ern Ontario.

Bentley To Coach Quakers

SASKATOON (CP)—The immediate hockey future of Leslie's Bentley brothers, Doug and Max, was settled here Thursday when Doug signed a contract as playing coach for the Saskatoon Quakers in the Western Hockey League and Max signed a New York Rangers' contract.

Since Max was sold by Toronto Maple Leafs to Rangers this summer, it was frequently rumored that he and Doug would be reunited on a New York forward line.

Doug, who coached Quakers to the 1951-52 league championship, announced that he would be willing to go to New York later in the season if Frank Boucher, Ranger coach, thought he would be of value to the National Hockey League team.

Grid Clubs In Preview

The Victoria Junior Canadian Football League, scheduled to open Sept. 26, will give a sneak preview here and on the mainland this week-end.

Navy and Oak Bay will meet at Naden Recreation field Saturday at 2 in an exhibition tussle, both clubs having completed a month of pre-season drills.

Victoria Vampires, defending champions, will be in Vancouver where they will meet Vancouver Cubs at Capilano Stadium. Cubs, an intermediate farm club of the B.C. Lions, will dress such established stars as Vic Chapman, Bob Sikorski and Pete Von Harten as well as several college imports.

BAMFORD RETURNS

Returning to the line-up after sitting out the last game will be rookie defenseman Bill Bamford who will work with Tommy Druce. The other goal-fronting pair will be Bob Monaghan and Jack Byford.

Second forward line will consist of Arnie Ferguson, Jackie Northup and Al Gill. Gill may also alternate on the first line with Landess. Duff McCaghey, Norm Coates and Harry Irwin will form the third forward line. Jim Hetherington will be between the posts.

The Peterborough club, with two victories, of its third successive Mann Cup, plans no line-up changes.

NEW OFFICIALS

Referees Bill Dickinson and Bill Wilkes, who have received praise for their handling of the first two games of the series, will be rested tonight and replaced by Gordy Folka and Sid Greenwood.

VANCOUVER—Edward Romero, 216, Argentina, stopped Charlie Kalani, 211½, Honolulu, 1.

Jockey Injured

VANCOUVER (UP)—Veteran jockey Rudy Reiman was recovering from possible fractured ribs today after a fall at the Exhibition Park race track here Thursday.

Reiman's mount in the seventh race, Retriever, stumbled, throwing Reiman to the ground. He was taken to the Vancouver General Hospital for treatment.

'Rocks Revamped For Third Game

Hopeful of First Series Win Tonight

In the unfamiliar position of having their backs to the wall, the Victoria Shamrocks plan to come out snarling tonight.

Angered at their own inability to cuff the Peterborough Trailermen as they did teams in the Inter-city Lacrosse League this season, the Rocks plan to go all-out when they tackle the eastern champs in the third game of the Mann Cup title series.

With the Petes holding a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven Canadian title series, the Rocks will make two important line-up changes tonight, hoping to find the formula that will restore them to their former winning ways.

First string centre Larry Booth, who has been unable to regain his form after a serious illness, will be dropped from the line-up and Vancouver reinforcement Lew Landess will move into the first string at tacking unit.

Landess, acquired from PNE Indian for the series, played on defense Wednesday night but has played forward most of the season.

Bays Open Bid For B.C. Crown

Coach Alex MacDonald's Foul Bay Island senior B lacrosse champions are scheduled to take the floor against Kelowna at the Interior city tonight in the first game of a best-of-three British Columbia title series.

Bays, who swept to the city and Island titles in easy style earlier this season, will be without two of their solid performers.

Former Shamrock, Art Green, and rugged Norm Kowalyk were unable to take time off from work to make the trip.

Second game of the series is scheduled for Saturday and the third, if necessary, Sunday.

ON THE OUTDOOR FRONT

With ROY THORSEN

A $1,000 prize derby is in store for lower island fishermen over the October Thanksgiving holiday week-end at Cowichan Bay.

Derby will be a three-day affair, starting at first light, Saturday, October 10, and will close on the afternoon of October 12.

Lee Hallberg, local outdoors radio commentator and past-president of the Cowichan Bay Salmon club, reports that there will be a $100 daily cash prize for the derby entrant reeling in the biggest coho.

On top of that there's a rich bundle of consolation prizes. Winner of the main prize will have the choice of a fur coat, a TV set or a deep-freeze—all worth at least $400. In addition there will be 15 merchandise prizes each day, says Hallberg. Largest fish of the three-day derby will win the champion the Anchor Cafe Trophy. Tickets can be obtained from local sporting goods stores.

Victoria's Art Worth will again be the official weigher at the Government wharf. No live bait can be used in the derby, the fifth annual such event staged by the club. The club each year has contributed a portion of the profits to the Queen Alexandra Solarium. Donations to date have totaled $1,581.

Among local nimrods going to Alberta (Brooks area) next month for pheasant and duck shooting are: Pat Dunn and Cee Rawlings; Cee Rhodes, George Farmer and Sid Anderson, while John Wenger will join hands with retired millionaire Ken Hyslop, of Racine, Wis.

Esquimalt and District Salmon Club big winners during the Labor Day holiday week-end were: First, Bill Haythorne, with a 13-10-pound coho; second, G. Ellis, 13.06-pound coho, and third, Lt. Cmdr. Penner with a coho going 13.04 pounds. In the younger class, Garry Rookkamp was tops. Bill Heller Sr., was among the hidden-weight prize winners.

Salmon fishing in waters from Sooke to Campbell River reported generally from fair to good... Saanich Inlet fishing now very good.

Alan MacLean of Campbell River reports that spring and tye fishing is over, but that coho fishing is good. Qualicum saltwater fishing is rated as good.

Cowichan River is producing some trout, but most of them are so small—under the eight-inch limit—that they have to be thrown back.

Car Dealers Appear Strong Threat For City Soccer League Honors

Wood Motors appear set to open the Victoria and District Football Association schedule with only two new players added to last year's roster.

The club, which captured the Jackson and McGavin Cups last season and finished second only to Victoria West in league play while playing under Adanac colors, is scheduled to meet Esquimalt in the league opener September 28.

Date for this game had been previously set for Saturday but due to lack of playing fields association officials were forced to move the schedule back one week.

The two newcomers—Garry Crowe and Doug Day—are expected to fit in with manager-coach Bob Davison's plans for a speedy, hustling club.

Crowe, rated by Davison as one of the brightest prospects in the city today, will likely land a berth on the forward line. Day, with Canadian Scottish last season, is a utility player and plays a good solid game in goal.

Jack Rogers is also back after a one-year absence from the club. Rogers saw duty for Victoria West last season after playing with Adanacs two years ago. He will likely catch a spot on the fullback line.

John Moss, last season's goalie, may not return this year. However, if he fails to rejoin the club, Day will fill in at that position.

Additional strength will probably be added after the season gets under way in the person of Ernest Estlake, scheduled to arrive here from England Oct. 10.

Estlake, a relative of Davison, played in the Northeastern League last year and is an inside-left forward who would undoubtedly add tremendous strength to the club.

Club president Alec McCormick will be available for utility duty.

THE OATIS STORY

Prisoner in Red Hands ‘Lives’ Only in Sleep

(EDITOR’S NOTE: This is the final article in the series written by William N. Oatis, Associated Press foreign correspondent. In previous articles he has told how the Communists in Czechoslovakia arrested him, tried him as a spy and sentenced him to 10 years imprisonment.)

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

I spent more than 24 months, from the spring of 1951 to the spring of 1953, in Ruzyně Prison near Prague, Czechoslovakia. All that time I lived in a cell.

I was arrested while serving as an Associated Press foreign correspondent. I was accused of espionage, convicted and sentenced to 10 years’ imprisonment. I got out in less time on a pardon.

In retrospect, the weeks and months seem to have gone by fast. That is because the prisoner remembers little that happened in them—because they were empty. This very emptiness makes each day itself seem to go by so slowly.

I used to wake to the guard’s reveille call and think, “It is 18 hours till I can sleep again: how can I ever pass that time?” It was as if I had just fallen to the bottom of a deep well and must swim upward and upward, holding my breath to save my life.

In a cell a man lives while he is asleep; while he is awake, he only exists. In dreams he lives the life he cannot live in reality. I dreamed of buying newspapers, walking the streets, riding trains, eating in restaurants, talking with my wife and friends.

Time goes most slowly when toes, rice or boiled pearly barley, this last a tasteless dish that many prisoners flushed down the toilet.

A time or two during the week we got bits of canned meat-parts of the animal that should have been thrown away—in our gravy. There was an honest-to-goodness slice of meat on Sundays or holidays. Sometimes it was good roast pork, sometimes tough, dry boiled beef. Now and then we got fresh lettuce, often with a dividend of sand. The food was not elegant, but it was usually tasty and filling.

RECREATION
 Between meals, we found a few things to pass the time. From my cellmates, I learned a little Czech and Slovak and a few words of Russian, Hungarian, Hebrew and Arabic. I spoke rudimentary French with the priest, and taught him English.

We sang songs in several languages. The politician taught me “Dark Eyes” in Russian, and “I taught him ‘Dinah,’ ‘Me and My Shadow’ and ‘The Battle Hymn of the Republic’ in English.

We played questions-and-answers. We drew a chess-and-checker board on toilet paper and kneaded figures out of rye bread, which is as hard as rock when it has dried. (The priest colored the “red” chessmen with toothpaste.) That gave us two more games to play.

We got books in Czech and Slovak, at the rate of one or two a week, from the prison library. They were mostly propaganda novels.

I got three parcels of books in English—from my wife, from the U.S. Embassy and from The AP—novels, plays, poetry and writings on music and science. And I got some Soviet publications in English—Gorki, Dickens, Howard Fast and some propaganda magazines—from my referent. So we had something to read.

In January, 1952, I started writing songs—one-voice melodies with words—on toilet paper. Before I got out, I wrote more than 400 songs, three verses and numerous skits. (Don’t look for any of these at your music store.)

We looked forward to the scheduled events of each week: The buying of cigarettes, candy, cookies and fruit from a prison officer who took orders at the cell door and delivered the goods a few days later; the arrival of clean unbleached-muslin underwear from the prison laundry (we got a change of our tan burlap uniforms only when they began showing dirt or holes.)

OUTSIDE TRIPS

There were shower baths about every two weeks, trips to the doctor’s or dentist’s office as needed. (The dentist filled numerous cavities in my teeth. The doctor put me in the prison hospital with what was diagnosed as tuberculosis.)

There were, on rare occasions, walks in the prison courtyard. And there were, for me, five automobile trips to Prague, when I eagerly drank in all the sights of streets and houses and people and trees and grass and sunshine and sky and space that I missed in my cell.

The first time, I went to Pankrac Prison to testify at a trial of a group of Czechs accused of espionage and linked through a devious web with my case. The police made it clear how I was to testify. That was six weeks later I was taken to the downtown police station to meet U.S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs. (Only then did I learn that the police had been wrong when they told me, “The American Embassy is doing nothing for you.”)

There was a visit the following October with another embassy man. Charge d’Affaires Nat. P. King, and a trip to a hospital for a physical examination some five months after that. I had a second visit with King only two days before my release. (Neither of us knew then that I was about to be freed.)

Incidents like that were rare breaks in the monotony. In the cell there always came a time when we ran out of things to do, and there we were again, pacing the floor and waiting for bedtime.

There was a rule, probably intended to prevent suicides, that every prisoner, unless specifically excused from doing so, must sleep with his hands outside his blankets. (As a frail-looking foreigner trusted not to do himself in, I got an excuse.)

A few of the guards, especially the younger and newer ones, enforced this to the letter. While a prisoner sleeps, he is likely to pull his hands under the covers almost by habit. And when my cellmate did so, such guards banged on the door, “Hands outside the blankets!”

And then we were both awake, and back in prison. And then we went back to sleep, and pretty soon again we heard the same cry, at our own door or somewhere down the hall. On nights like that, nobody slept right.

Through every night, the electric light burned overhead. Every few minutes a guard looked through a peephole in the door.

If he was the right kind of guard, we slept in spite of all that. But always there came the dawn, and there was another day to get through—16 hours—960 minutes—57,600 seconds. That way I struggled through two years.

Shortly before midnight May 15, 1953, a guard awoke me and took me before a secret police officer. The officer told me that President Antonin Zapotocky, acting on a letter from my wife in St. Paul, Minn., had forgiven the rest of my sentence. The next morning at 9.30, I left the prison for the last time. And less than six hours later an American Embassy car carried me out of Czechoslovakia.

8,000 Interior Loggers Plan Strike Action

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia's lumber industry Thursday was faced with a new strike threat in northern and southern interior districts. A strike would involve 8,000 men. Fifteen hundred IWA workers in the northern interior have called for strike action, and a strike vote appears certain in the southern interior camps. Angry IWA officials have demanded the removal of Percy Gomersy from three government conciliation boards affecting the big union in the interior. They want a hearing before the labor board.

A board, headed by Mr. Gomersy, recommended a three-cent hourly wage boost in the southern section.

The majority report said: "Our impression must be that this union, as far as the result of its disapproved acts last year, has lost prestige, not only in the eyes of the general public and the employers, but indeed, a number of union members generally and even some lumber workers."

"This view is not quoted as a personal opinion or in condemnation but as a strong factor affecting the chances of the union now in any attempt to enlist public sympathy or even union labor support."

George Mitchell, union secretary, demanded that Gomersy be removed by the Labor Relations Board for his appointments on three other conciliation boards in the interior unless he retracts his statements.

MAIDEN SPEECH

The CCF leader was making his maiden speech in the Legislature. He lacked the fire of his predecessor, Harold Winch, but delivered a moderate speech, well thought out and containing sound material.

He spoke in a forthright, confident manner, dotted her and there with humor.

He told the government little is to be gained from scolding past administrations for the Doukhobor situation.

"But his government has no excuse for further delay in taking action," he said.

Mr. Webster said 20,000 acres of land and buildings, formerly owned and operated co-operatively by the Doukhobors, are now held by the government as a result of bankruptcy and foreclosure proceedings in the 1930's.

The individual Doukhobors occupy the land as tenants who are supposed to pay the government an annual rental, he explained. Large numbers of Doukhobors refuse to pay.

"Obviously this condition has a demoralizing effect on the more orthodox, law-abiding elements. It creates an atmosphere of insecurity, distrust and antagonism," he said. "No long-term settlement of the Doukhobor question will be possible until the land is sold back to the occupants on a fair and equitable basis."

Mr. Webster felt adequate new personnel and facilities will be required if Doukhobors are to be required to send their children to school.

In summing up, he said: "Lives and property must be protected. Sufficient and suitable detention facilities must be provided for those who break the law, but police action is not the ultimate answer."

LIBERALS SEEK SOURCE OF MILK PRICE DECISION

The four-man Liberal group in the Legislature wants to find out if decontrol of milk prices above the producer level was a Milk Board recommendation or simply a government decision.

Liberal Leader Arthur Laing and P. A. Gibbs (Lib., Oak Bay) have placed a resolution on the order paper asking for the production of all documents, correspondence and papers exchanged between Agriculture Minister Kenneth Klerman and the board just before the decontrol announcement.

CCF Leader Charges Secreds Lack Courage In Handling Douks

Webster Says Government Fails to Meet Problem of Radical Sons of Freedom

B.C.'s Social Credit government, like preceding governments, lacks the "courage and decisiveness" to deal with the long-standing Doukhobor problem, CCF Leader Arnold Webster said in the Legislature Thursday.

Governments, he said, do nothing until the Sons of Freedom stir up trouble and then a show of being "tough" is put on, an effort is made to make them pay taxes and send their children to school and a few hundred are arrested for nudism, arson or bombing.

"Then we ease up on being tough because it is a costly and frustrating business. Perhaps we make a few conciliatory gestures. Then when things quiet down we conveniently forget about them and their grievances."

"Nothing substantial or fundamental is done. Little wonder the Doukhobors have come to the conclusion that they can get results only when they resort to direct action," the opposition leader said.

As Mr. Webster was speaking reports came out of Doukhobor trials in Burnaby, the indirect results of government attempts to force school attendance.

There is no "overnight cure" for irregularity

But there is a simple, natural answer to the common problem of irregularity due to lack of bulk

There are men and women (perhaps you're one of them) who won't let "nature take its course". THEY TRY TO SUBSTITUTE UNNATURAL "FORCING ACTION" FOR THE NATURAL REGULARITY WHICH SENSIBLE DAILY HABITS AND SUFFICIENT BULK IN THE DIET COULD PROBABLY MAINTAIN.

Many fall into the habit of using laxatives in a way laxative makers never intended. They take "big doses" willy-nilly without even reading the directions on the label.

Naturally, such overdoing—with products intended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage—exerts upon the delicate digestive system an unnatural strain.

There's nothing wrong, of course, with taking laxatives occasionally. If you feel you have to take a laxative, just be sure you take it wisely—in an accurate, recommended dose.

BUT THERE IS A WAY TO AVOID TAKING DRUG-TYPE LAXATIVES AND TO PLACE YOUR DEPENDENCE ON NATURE, IF LACK OF BULK IN THE DIET IS YOUR TROUBLE.

In many natural foods—such as certain vegetables, fruits, and grains—nature grows abundant natural bulk which normally and naturally aids the rhythmic process of elimination.

In no other natural food is natural bulk so ideally found as in the outer layers of the whole wheat kernel, known generally as bran.

Bran is nature's "laxative food" instead of a "medicine". When properly processed and shredded, whole wheat bran yields smooth, natural bulk that the digestive system can handle in a natural way.

There are thousands of satisfied All-Bran users. They write of their own free will to tell us what natural relief they receive from eating Kellogg's All-Bran daily and drinking plenty of water.

EAT KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN EVERY MORNING FOR BREAKFAST FOR 10 DAYS. THEN, IF YOU'RE NOT COMPLETELY SATISFIED, SEND THE EMPTY CARTON TO THE KELLOGG COMPANY, LONDON, ONTARIO—AND GET DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.

Remember—Kellogg's All-Bran has helped millions. Why not you?

Need for Civil Defense Support Seen in City Woman's Story of Terrifying Fiji 'Quake

A Victoria woman who survived last Monday's terror-filled earthquake in Fiji has described the scene in a letter to her parents here.

Dr. Luena Hatcher, daughter of CD Target Area Director for Greater Victoria, L. G. Hatcher and Mrs. Hatcher, left this city recently to assume a government post on the Pacific Island.

The earthquake, which claimed two lives, and Dr. Hatcher's vivid description of it, shows the need of civil defense against peacetime disaster in every community, her father says.

Following are excerpts from the letter, released by Mr. Hatcher in the hope that it will move residents here to take part in civil defense.

In particular he hopes more graduate nurses will register for refresher courses due to commence here Oct. 7. Here is Dr. Hatcher's description of the earthquake:

"After a night of trembles with more violent ones this morning, we got up. This is a most uncanny experience.

"Just before lunch (Monday) I was doing out-patients. The earth began to tremble; we threw ourselves to the floor because there wasn't a hope of getting out of the building.

"The windows began to smash and things were falling all over the place. I felt like a pea on a shaker, unable to move. Bits of ceiling came down as well. It lasted about half a minute.

"Then the evacuation... civil defense is nothing. There were four medical officers, 250 patients as well as nurses. We discharged about a third of them and the rest we had on the lawn in half an hour.

"We didn't know if the hospital was safe... stone buildings stand quakes badly. We cleared casualties and set up rows of dressings, etc. All the power was off.

"Then casualties from the town arrived. I was put on the door and sorted them into three groups:

(1)—Minor, that could wait outside.

(2)—Shocked and drowned that could be treated in the ward.

(3)—Injuries requiring dressings.

The surgeon dealt with the latter and an MO with No. 2.

"The pathologist with two policemen and a list of blood donors went around the town collecting them. There were 30 out of a population of 10,000 in two hours. Much of our medicine and supplies was destroyed.

"Officials condemned the hospital and all the patients were moved into a wooden hut within four hours, without preparation.

"The difficulty was dealing with the hordes of relatives and in identifying casualties because of language differences and unconsciousness.

"It would have done your Red Cross good to have been here. I was the only person here who had been in an air raid.

"The tidal wave was interesting. For a time the sea disappeared beyond the reef and then it came back in huge whirlpools, swept over the lower part of the town and drowned some people.

"You could collect fish on the floor of the government buildings.

"We live in a wooden house, so there was very little damage. One house fell into the sea and the wharf has come away from the land by two feet. The timber yard went up in smoke.

"This is the first serious quake Fiji has had. It will probably be 500 years before there is another."

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Met a local business man yesterday who looked remarkably dejected, even for a local business man.

Asked him what was the matter.

"Must be losing my grip," he said, "or is it that even my best friend won't tell me?"

"Why," he said, "there hasn't been one single rumor I'm going to run for mayor."

If we get many more candidates, perhaps we could work out a two-platoon system, as in football, to give everybody a chance.

Thor Arngren of the Totem Theatre, whose youthful appearance belies his theatrical ability, was attacked by the flu bug last week, when he was playing in "Jane Steps Out."

Along about the second act, he began to feel dizzy, and his co-producer, Stu Baker, searched the audience until he found a doctor.

The doc obligingly went back stage and, between acts, gave Thor a shot of something or other to keep him on his feet for the rest of the performance.

Baker thanked the doctor profusely, but the Medical man was apologetic.

"I hope everything works out," he said. "You see, I'm actually a baby specialist."

"Oh, that's quite all right," said Baker. "Thor is a very young producer."

Also from the Totem comes a shorty for your cute kiddies collection.

Actress Muriel Ontkane has a pair of children who have been badgering her for a baby brother to play with.

The best answer she has been able to think up so far is "not this year."

Well, the other day her youngest offered a compromise.

"Mommy," he said, "if we can't have a baby this year, can we have a lizard?"

I see by the headlines: "STARVING DOUG WOMEN CARRIED INTO COURTROOM."

That's a woman for you—goes on a diet and hasn't sense enough to know when to quit.

There's a possibility high-pressure vacuum cleaner salesmen may operate in Victoria.

As I understand it, some of these boys are so slick they could sell the vacuum without the cleaner.

The newspaper business can be a dangerous profession, and not even the families of newspapermen are safe from attack.

This was proven conclusively the other day, in the case of the reporter assigned to handle the Times' series on how to defeat the wasp menace.

An angry wasp, having read the articles which had a great many nasty things to say about wasps, sought out the reporter's home and bit his young son.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

The MacDonald-Cartier Club, Young Business Men's Conservative Association, will hold an inaugural dinner at the Monterey Restaurant on Friday, September 25.

Speakers include Major-General G. R. Pearce, VC, MP for Esquimalt-Saanich, and Deane Finlayson, provincial leader of the Progressive Conservative Party.

Officers elected last week at the annual meeting of the Victoria Gyro Club will be installed at the Club Sirocco on Friday night, October 2.

Mildred A. Poulton, 922 Cook, arrested Thursday afternoon for failing to obey a summons to appear in police court for a parking meter violation, was fined $2.50 for the offence and $3.50 costs by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today.

Mrs. Poulton was released after posting $10 bail. Her counsel was David G. Sloan.

A live wasp was removed from the ear of five-year-old Douglas Fox, son of O. J. Fox, 1259 Downham Place, at Jubilee Hospital, Thursday.

As well as several stings in and about the ear, the little boy received about 30 stings elsewhere on his body. It is believed he disturbed a nest of the yellowjackets while playing in an orchard.

Dean Finlayson, provincial leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, will address the annual meeting of the Esquimalt District Progressive Conservative Association next Monday at 8 p.m. at Colwood Hall.

Melvin S. Rees, young naval rating, was remanded to Saturday in city police court today for continuation of trial on a charge of breaking into a home with intent to commit theft. He is alleged to have broken into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chaplin, 980 Quadra.

Carl Kibsgaard, 1621 Quadra, was committed for trial in a higher court following a preliminary hearing in Saanich police court Thursday afternoon on a charge of breaking and entering a premises August 15 and committing theft. Charge concerned the entry of Moraes Steak House, Douglas Street. He was remanded to next Thursday on a charge of breaking into Safeway Cleaners, Cloverdale and Quadra.

Bernard Shaw, proprietor of Ye Olde Staffordshire China Shoppe, 1322 1/2 Douglas, reported to city police today that he lost $1,000 in bills somewhere in the city this morning. He reported the roll of bills slipped out of his inside coat pocket.

Suggestion that the city prohibit parking on the east side of Government Street, between Humboldt and Johnson, between 4 and 6 p.m. on weekdays, has been made to City Council by T. G. Sawyer, 3258 Glasgow Avenue.

Mr. Sawyer wrote that "downtown Government Street is a disorganized and frustrating road at peak hours. Driving north, one crosses Humboldt on two lanes and then is squeezed into one lane."

30-Foot Plank Hits Construction Worker

Struck on the head by a two-by-six plank, 30 feet long, which fell from the roof of a three-story building being demolished at Douglas Street and Queens Avenue, W. R. Johnston, 813 Cook Street, went to St. Joseph's Hospital Thursday with under-terminated head injuries.

The 42-year-old employee of Birnie Plumbing was employed on construction of an adjoining building when the accident occurred.

Canada Geese Drop in for a Visit at Elk Lake

Canada geese know a good thing when they see it, and this large flock lost no time in descending with glad cries on a newly-mown field of grain at Elk Lake. Whether or not this particular flock will spend the winter at Elk Lake, or continue on south down the flyway, depends on what their migratory instincts tell them. Meanwhile, they make a graceful picture. (Times Photo by Halkett.)

Jail Sentence Stands For 'Nitro' Carrier

Victoria Man's Conviction Upheld On Appeal Over Counsel's Argument

Appeal Court today dismissed the appeal of Robert Douglas Morgan, convicted of having in his possession nitro-glycerine and detonator caps under suspicious circumstances.

Morgan was sentenced here to three years in the penitentiary by Judge J. B. Clearhue.

Morgan was arrested on the night of March 21 after being chased by city police on Cormorant Street. He surrendered after Constable Kenneth Wainwright fired a bullet which struck accused in the hand.

Later that evening, police discovered a bottle of nitro-glycerine at the rear of a warehouse on Pandora Avenue where Morgan was first seen before his arrest. The Crown inferred that the explosives belonged to the accused.

Ronald Grant, Crown counsel, pointed out to the Appeal Court that the evidence given at the trial was sufficient to infer that the explosives belonged to the accused.

"He was also found in possession of a flashlight, a shopping bag and gloves," said Mr. Grant.

Morgan pleaded his own case in court but failed to convince

Black Ball To Pay Cost Gulf Survey

A survey by W. C. Gilman & Co., New York traffic engineers, to assess the traffic potential of a Gulf Islands-Victoria ferry service has been commissioned by Black Ball Lines, and will be made available to Gulf Islands residents in about six weeks.

While Black Ball is paying for the survey, George Paulin, Victoria manager, states the company "made no commitments or promises" to the delegation of Island residents who met ferry officials Wednesday.

One of the factors to be decided by the survey is whether or not existing rates make it feasible to operate such a service.

"We are definitely not interested in a subsidy," Mr. Paulin said today. "Any service operated must pay its own way."

He added that, at present, Black Ball has no equipment which could be used on such a service.

The Gilman Co. survey will also measure potential passenger and freight business, routes, and best locations for piers.

The Gulf Island delegation approached Black Ball Line after CPR service was drastically cut. At a second meeting Thursday night, residents agreed to ask the provincial government to enfranchise such a service.

At present Gulf Islands Ferry Company operates a subsidized service between Vancouver Island and some of the Gulf Islands.

Newcomers to Victoria of Irish parentage are being sought to join the Loyal Irish Society which holds its annual general meeting in the Williams Hall, 749 Broughton, on Wednesday, September 23 at 8 p.m.

VICTORIA FRESH MILK PRICES TOP ALL CANADIAN CENTRES

Victorians pay more for their milk than people living in any other major centre in Canada, according to the B.C. Department of Agriculture.

A department survey of retail fluid milk prices disclosed that milk-sells here at 24 cents a quart as compared with 22 cents in Vancouver, Windsor, Toronto, Sydney, N.S., Hamilton and Ottawa, and 21 cents in Calgary, Medicine Hat and Moose Jaw.

Milk prices in major Quebec cities range between 19¢ to 18½ cents.

The price of milk is at its lowest in Charlottetown, P.E.I., where it sells at 17 cents a quart.

Agricultural officials were at a loss to explain why milk prices are higher in Victoria. "They have always been higher," said one official. "This also applies for meat."

In isolated places in B.C. milk sells for about the same price as in Victoria or one cent higher, the survey showed.

Eye-Catcher at Flower Show

Attracting wide attention at the Fall Show of Victoria Horticultural Society in the Crystal Garden today was this attractive artistic arrangement in an unusual container. It is the work of Mrs. Mark Rush-ton, 1696 Chandler. Show continues today and Saturday. (Times Photo.)

Victoria Sea Rangers Hope To Hold Rowing Race Title

A party of Victoria Sea Rangers, aged 15 to 21, will defend their twice-won rowing cup at a B.C.-wide regatta in Vancouver Saturday.

The third annual water meet of the Rangers, senior body of the Girl Guide Association, will take place in Stanley Park on the waters of Lost Lagoon.

Ten crews will compete this year compared to five in 1952.

Four Vancouver teams will play host to girls from Victoria, Port Alberni, Hope, Hammond and New Westminster.

Feature of the day will be the attempt of SRS Victoria of Victoria to retain the regatta title.

Races will feature four-man rowing events as well as canoe paddling.

Attending from here under leadership of Skipper, Miss L. Warren and Mate, Miss E. De Kever are the following:

Joyce Watkins, Sheila Carstens, Heather Sinclair, Pat Townsend, Doris Nikolaisen, Jane Kinney, Edith Kelly, Jill Neesham, Christine Hunter, Marlene Taylor.

Beer-Drinking Wrestling Fan Pays $50 Fine

A thrown beer bottle, which narrowly missed a woman's head and cut another's legs, brought Allan Lafex, 18, of Prospect Lake, to police court today.

He was charged, and convicted with consuming liquor in a public place, fined $50 with an option of 30 days in jail.

Evidence was that Lafex was with two other young men at Memorial Arena wrestling show on August 29. He admitted that members of the party had brought some beer to the show.

Constable William Reekie, on special duty, told the court he spoke to accused and his two companions after a bottle had been thrown from their area "which narrowly missed one woman's head and caused cuts to another woman's legs when it broke."

"I did not drink any of the beer. I do not know who threw the bottle," Lafex told Magistrate H. C. Hall.

The officer said he found several bottles which had contained beer where the trio was sitting.

CROWD AROUSED

After the bottle-throwing incident "an angry crowd of people gathered around where Lafex and his friends were sitting," Constable Reekie said.

Ronald L. Stark, 17, admitted to the court he was a member of the party and that he was drinking beer at the wrestling match. But he denied any knowledge of the bottle-throwing incident.

"I am sure you know who threw that bottle and you should have been a good citizen and told the police who did this dangerous act," Magistrate Hall told Lafex.

"I think your evidence is too absurd even to consider and I find you guilty as charged," the magistrate told accused.

No Air Base, No Air Day

Victoria apparently won't be able to celebrate Air Force Day until the RAF sets up a station here.

That's the indication from Defense Minister Brooke Claxton in reply to query from Mayor Claude Harrison as to why Vancouverites were having an air force observance on Saturday while Victoria was not.

The mayor's contention was that people here had just as much right to see what the air force was doing as those on the mainland. He thought that at

Voters' 'Yes' Not Enough To Free Fund

Nursing Home By-Law May Require Approval of B.C. Legislature

A special act of the B.C. Legislature still may be necessary before the city can turn over legally $150,000 from land sale funds for erection of a 104-bed addition to Victoria Nursing Home on Gorge Road.

Ratepayers gave their consent to the money transfer in a by-law vote Thursday.

City Council was to give "final passage" to the proposal at a meeting this afternoon. That done, the matter will be referred to the provincial government.

Attorney General Robert Bonner said today he would determine what action would be taken by the government when the matter came before him, and not before.

Legal opinion has been given that a special act is the only way to handle the matter. The Municipal Act sets strict limits for disposition of land sale revenue. The nursing home, registered as a private body, is outside the limits, but the Legislature has power to waive the regulations if it considers this advisable.

BACKERS CONFIDENT

Those sponsoring the new nursing home proposal are confident, meanwhile, that since ratepayers have given approval, there will be no more serious difficulties in the way.

F. E. Winslow, president of the Nursing Home Society, said he expected co-operation from the government if the matter went to the Parliament Buildings. He said, too, he hoped technicalities could be removed quickly so an early start could be made on the building.

He noted Thursday's vote was a light one, but considered that was to be expected. He said he was happy at the proportion of voters who had given approval to the by-law.

Some 17,100 persons were eligible to vote Thursday but only 2,638 showed up. Of this number, 2,293 voted in favor of the by-law; 336 voted against, and nine spoiled their ballots.

GOOD MAJORITY

Since the by-law required a three-fifths majority to pass, the by-law actually received 715 more "yes" votes than were necessary.

Ald. Mrs. Margaret Christie, most vigorous campaigner for the nursing home on the council, was pleased with the result but greatly disturbed by the small turnout.

"It shows a lack of community spirit," she said. "I can't understand people who are not interested in their city."

Mrs. Christie said as far as she was concerned the approval of ratepayers was all that was required for the project to go ahead.

"I've worn myself out fighting for this. I don't think there is anything to stop us now from starting the job right away."

The new addition will provide for 104 beds and will cost a total of $450,000. The cost is to be shared equally by the city, the province and the federal government.

Leaders in U.S. Advertising Open Convention Monday

Leaders in the United States advertising industry will meet in Victoria Monday when the Pacific Coast Council of the American Association of Advertising Agencies holds its annual convention in Empress Hotel.

The creative phase of advertising will be the general theme of discussion. In addition to top-ranking Pacific Coast executives, many well-known agency men from other parts of the continent will attend.

Chairman of the opening session Monday afternoon will be A. W. Neally, vice-president and manager of the Los Angeles office of Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn.

Speakers on the opening day will include: Marion Harper, Jr., New York, president of McCann-Erickson, Ltd.; William R. Baker, Jr., New York, chairman of the board, Benton & Bowles; H. Bell, Los Angeles, copy chief for Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn; William T. Adams, Los Angeles, copy chief for J. Walter Thompson Co.; H. E. Cassidy, executive vice-president, McCarty Co.; and C. E. Stauffer, vice-president and Los Angeles office manager, Warwick & Legler, Inc.

About 150 "Four A" members are expected, and at least 100 will be accompanied by their wives.

ASK THE TIMES

Q. In Vancouver they are building a stadium for the British Empire Games. Where does the word "stadium" come from?—H.A.C.

A. The Greek measure "stadion" which is equal to 607 feet, the distance of the original Olympic foot race. Later, the term was applied to the place where the race was run.

Q. Is it true that the Bay of Fundy in Eastern Canada has the highest tide in the world?—S.V.T.

A. Yes.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Frampton, 1741 Newton Street, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday when they will be "at home" to friends between 3 and 5 p.m. and 7 and 9 p.m. at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Percy J. Frampton, 112 Montreal Street. Mr. and Mrs. Frampton were married in St. Mary's Church, Bransgore, Hampshire, Eng., coming to Canada in 1913. They lived in Edmonton for 29 years and moved to Vancouver in 1942 and to Victoria in 1948. Their two daughters, Mrs. B. E. Currey and Mrs. W. Ritchie, also live in Victoria.

Mrs. J. G. McMillan Honored

Mrs. R. W. Todd and Mrs. Bob Lapp were co-hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at the home of the former, 1047 Joan Crescent, when they honored Mrs. J. G. McMillan, the former Helen Snelling. Gifts were presented in a decorated wishing well and corsages were presented to the guest of honor and mothers of the bride and groom. There were 38 guests present.

Co-workers of the purchasing and finance department also honored Mrs. McMillan at a miscellaneous shower in their lunch room. Among the 22 gifts presented was a beautiful blanket. The honor guest received a corsage of roses.

Mrs. H. Noble and Miss Carol Greenwell gave a shower at the home of the former on Howe Street. Gifts were contained in a miniature house and corsages were presented to the bride-to-be and her mother. Twenty guests were present.

To Marry in Vancouver

The engagement is announced in Vancouver between Doris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Benwell, and Mr. Ron Rudd, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Rudd, all of the mainland city. The wedding will take place at St. Philip's Anglican Church Oct. 10 at 8 p.m. with Rev. A. H. Cummings officiating, assisted by Archdeacon H. J. Greig. Mrs. E. G. Benwell and Mrs. B. Renouf of Victoria, grandmothers of the bride-elect, will be among out-of-town guests at the wedding.

Holiday at Shawnigan

Recent Victoria guests at the Shawnigan Beach Hotel have been Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Norrie, Mr. Gordon Norrie, Mr. and Mrs. Reg Speck, Miss Beryl Speck, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Whitaker, Mrs. E. E. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Strathy, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. George Carter, Mrs. William Moore, Capt. F. James, RN; Miss M. B. James, Mrs. D. R. Adamson, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. James, Mr. R. J. Peruliet and Jerry, Miss E. M. Fraser, Miss B. E. Fraser, Mrs. G. F. Peatt, Mrs. H. H. Edwards, Miss E. M. Mason, Miss D. Simpson, Miss Leam Halsall, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lane, Mr. and Mrs. R. Peachey, Mrs. K. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. V. N. Bigwood, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stevens, David and Richard; Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Landman, Miss H. Unwin, Mrs. F. V. Longstaff, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Henderson, Col. and Mrs. B. Ripley, Miss K. M. Ross, Mr. Isaac Rothery, and from Sidney, Capt. and Mrs. C. Stuart Morgan and Heather, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Howroyd.

Return from Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Sinnott and daughter, Miss Patricia Sinnott, 804 Dereen Place, returned recently from a five-week vacation, travelling eastward by train to visit friends in Toronto and then to Chicago. From there they motored to Niagara Falls, Boston and New York, returning via the southern states.

For Beverly Thomas

Miss Beverly Thomas, bride-elect, was honored Friday evening at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. R. Upward and Mrs. G. Upward at the home of the latter. Guest of honor, her cousin, Mrs. Fair, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. J. Hogg, were presented with corsages. Gifts were received from Mrs. J. Grant, Mrs. C. Jones, Mrs. H. Payne, Mrs. G. Rosson, Miss J. Rosson, Mrs. E. Silburn, Mrs. L. Schmelz, Mrs. K. Smith, Mrs. J. Terry Jr., Mrs. J. Terry Sr., Miss Gillian Upward, Mrs. J. Wickes and Mrs. H. Upward.

China Shower

A post nuptial shower was recently held for Mrs. Ray Bennett (nee Lila Halstrom), at the home of Mrs. J. H. Renfree, 2932 Cedar Hill Road. The gifts of miscellaneous china were presented to the guest of honor in an artistically-decorated basket. Games and guessing contests were enjoyed during the evening, prizes being won by Mrs. J. Saunders, Mrs. L. Burroughs, Mrs. P. Dodgson and Mrs. L. Bennett Sr.

Invited guests included Mrs. C. Halstrom, Mrs. C. Billings, Mrs. F. White, Mrs. G. Gardiner, Mrs. E. Fanthorpe, Mrs. G. Hume, Mrs. V. Boughey, Mrs. M. Hayes, Mrs. W. Ledingham, Mrs. E. Chappelle, Mrs. L. Burroughs, and Misses J. Bennett, G. Bennett, M. Ledingham, B. Billings and M. Harrison.

Langford Notes

Mr. William Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hughes, Langford Lake, has left to attend the civil engineering course at the University of British Columbia. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ashdown and Miss A. Ashdown, who have been on a motor trip to Portland, Ore., have returned to their home on Millstream Road, Langford. Mr. J. H. Turner, who has been visiting relatives in England and Scotland, has now returned to his home on Peatt Road. Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bayles, who have spent several days in Vancouver as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bramham, have returned to their home on Peatt Road. Miss Elizabeth Welch and Miss A. M. A Cathedral Christening

The names Dianne Louise and Donna Lorraine will be conferred on the delightful twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Whittingham, who already seem quite at home in front of a camera as they pose with their mother. The christening ceremony is to take place Saturday at 3 p.m. at Christ Church Cathedral, Dean P. R. Beattie officiating. Godparents are to be Miss Lorraine Miles, the twins' aunt; Mrs. Glendon Grant and Mr. Ron McLeod. Following the ceremony there will be a christening tea at the home of the maternal grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. S. F. Miles, Elk Lake. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Whittingham. I Read 'Em All Says Editor Who Gets Many Stories Weekly

It's true! We've had it from the source now and you struggling authors have to believe it whether you want to or not! Editors do read all stories that come to their desk—though not necessarily all of all stories!

When that question was put to Miss Marjorie Whitelaw, fiction editor for Weekend magazine, who visited Victoria this week, she was quite indignant.

"That's nonsense!" she exclaimed. "Why wouldn't we read all manuscripts. We never know where we might find a diamond—even in the rough!" Tall and genial Miss Whitelaw has a trick of gazing thoughtfully at her questioner while analyzing his remarks. Then she usually comes out with some striking common-sensical reply.

"We don't read every word of the roughly 125 stories that land on my desk each week," she points out; "After all if a story is bad at the beginning and the end, it's bad!"

Sixty per cent of stories published in Weekend come from non-agent sources, she tells you. She buys two a week and her principal requirement is that the story should succeed in doing what it sets out to do.

But: "Canadian writers must learn to write," she emphasizes. "They are not patient enough to wait."

Endorse Proposed Equal Pay Bill

A letter endorsing action in bringing before the Legislature a bill for equal pay for women, will be sent to the premier from the University Women's Club. A resolution to this effect was passed at a coffee party and reception held Wednesday at 904 Government Street. Mrs. Hazel Hodson made the motion.

Mrs. A. J. Butterfield presided and introduced the executive to the meeting. Mrs. J. Gouge presented conveners of numerous interesting study groups, including literature, interior design, country dancing, drama, civic affairs, new graduates, education, music and international affairs.

Dr. Olga Jardine brought greetings from the Canadian Federation of University Women. Mrs. G. R. Easter gave an entertaining picture of her trip to London and Edinburgh.

Dr. Marie Massini spoke vividly on her own country, Switzerland, and its role as a holiday land.

Coffee and doughnuts were served by Mrs. H. Botterel, assisted by Mesdames Peter Marr, W. Falk, L. Gower, W. Andrews, F. S. McKinnon and A. H. Hall.

to set about mastering their craft. Doctors and lawyers spend years on the technique of their occupation, but writers mostly expect to do only "what comes naturally." They don't realize they have to learn the trade and it's as hard as any other—maybe harder!

Her other advice to writers is that they remember the old story-tellers' art and write in that vein stories that will make readers feel and think and often smile.

Miss Whitelaw impresses one as having a quick, shrewd intelligence that makes her an accurate judge of the men and women she meets in her interesting career. That she is kindly is evidenced in the fact that she often writes letters to accompany rejected stories.

"When there is evidence of talent, or a story is just a little off the beat, I like to encourage the authors," she remarks. "We are doing our best to build the Canadian writer in our publication."

Miss Whitelaw has a substantial background for her job as fiction editor. Born in Moncton, N.B., and Scottish educated, she has traveled about

Fruit Shippers Sued by Exchange

Special damages amounting to $1,937 are claimed against the Canadian Fruit Distributors Ltd., Kelowna, in a civil suit filed in Supreme Court today by Robert D. Harvey, K.C., counsel for the Vancouver Island Co-operative Exchange, Saanichton.

Damages are claimed for breach of duty and negligence.

The Saanichton Exchange claims the Canadian Fruit Distributors acting as its broker failed to carry out its duties with regard to a consignment of fruit shipped to the Prairies this summer.

Men in Services Pledge Aid To Community Chest Drive

The armed forces stationed in the Greater Victoria area have signified through their senior officers that when the 1953 Community Chest drive begins October 1, they will be 100 per cent behind it.

The announcement was made today by Brig. F. N. Cabledu, chairman of the armed forces division of the $210,686 drive.

He said that Rear Admiral J. C. Hibbard, DSC, CD, Flag Officer Pacific Coast and Garrison Area Commander, Lieut. Col. J. C. Cave had both offered strong support to the Red Feather campaign.

"Officers will be appointed in each service to conduct the drive within the naval and military complements," said Brig. Cabledu. Pledges will be sought as well as single donations. Assisted by Lt.-Cmdr. V. G. Pinhorn, RCN, the division chairman will also handle a canvass of dockyard employees. "We are hoping to arrange pay-roll deduction for the latter," he stated.

COSTS LESS!

Ford Trucks cost less to run!

Ford Economy Trucks save you money on every ton-mile of hauling—on any job you can name... because Fords have more time-saving, money-saving features than your trucking dollar ever bought before! Ford's great V-8 engines pack plenty of dependable performance for rugged hauling, while Power Pilot economy makes every gallon of gas go farther. Ford's Driverized Design—with shorter turning circles, greater manoeuvrability, improved brakes and unmatched cab comfort—cuts operating costs to the bone!

Ford Trucks cost less to maintain!

Ford Economy Trucks stay on the job faithfully, day after day, mile after mile. They work harder, last longer, keep repair and service costs to a minimum. Ford chassis construction, with new, sturdier deep-channel frames, provides more strength and rigidity without excess weight. Ford's big choice of Synchro-Silent transmissions—plus Automatic Transmission* or Overdrive* available on all 1/2-ton models—give smooth, quiet operation and longer service! The extra strength that Ford builds right into every truck part pays off in money-saving durability and long life!

White-Collar Workers Object of CCL Drive

MONTREAL (CP) — With other wells of union organization running dry, the Canadian Congress of Labor Thursday decided to mobilize its forces in an attempt to enlist thousands of unorganized "white-collar" office workers and department store clerks across the country.

Organizational chairman William Mahoney of the Toronto steel workers said white-collar workers are becoming "more and more union-conscious."

He said he realized that office workers may be more difficult to organize than other employees "because they are much closer to management," but he expressed confidence that by next year "we will be able to report considerable expansion in organizing the white-collar field."

He informed the congress that the work of the committee which has been attempting to organize the T. Eaton Co. employees has been taken over by the CCL.

Meanwhile, the 370,000-member labor body, turning to the field of federal affairs, charged the federal government with maintaining an immigration act which, despite protests by labor and other groups, permits "the worst kind of racial discrimination."

"The act is an offense to all decent Canadians and an insult to many nations of the free world against whom the act is obviously aimed," the CCL committee on human rights said in a report adopted by the 866-delegate convention.

On other fronts, there were these developments:

The congress sharply criticized the federal unemployment insurance program and demanded a number of changes, but turned down a demand that the government be asked immediately to extend benefits to men on strike.

The government's coal policy was criticized with Freeman Jenkins, head of the Maritime mine workers, proposing increased subsidies and other aid to the industry to keep miners fully employed. The congress gave him unanimous support.

Henry Young of Edmonton, president of the Alberta Farmers' Union, suggested there should be greater co-operation between farmers and workers, particularly on the political field.

Labor Retains Seat in U.K. By-Election

BROXTOWE, Eng. (CP) — The Labor party retained its seat in a parliamentary by-election here Thursday.

Though Labor's majority for this "safe" seat fell with the reduction in the size of the turnout, the party's percentage of the vote cast showed a slight increase over the last general election held in 1951.

The new Labor member is W. N. Warbey, who beat Conservative candidate A. J. Gorman.

The Volga River in Russia drains an area of 531,000 square miles.

The election was caused by the death of the previous Labor member, Seymour Cocks.

The contest leaves the balance in the House of Commons unchanged with Prime Minister Churchill's government still commanding a majority over all parties of 18.

Same Hospital Insurance Law For All Sought by CCF Leader

CCF Leader Arnold Webster called for a "one law for all" hospital insurance policy in British Columbia in an address to the Legislature Thursday.

Mr. Webster, blasting the Social Credit policy, said there can't be voluntary and mandatory hospital insurance at the same time.

"We shall never get a satisfactory service with justice to all if one class of citizens is forced to pay by payroll deductions and another group has to be wooed and wheedled into fulfilling obligations by pre-election concessions," the opposition leader stated.

The government's action before the June election in abolishing hospital insurance arrears by order-in-council, he said, was "most irregular and a distinct infringement of the terms and intent of the act."

The act, he contended, states unequivocally that every person "shall" pay premiums.

"Does the government now intend to amend the act in order to make the legality of such actions clear for the future?"

Mr. Webster asked, "What has happened, in fact, is that for certain people—those who have been delinquent in premium payments—hospital insurance obligations in the past have been made no longer mandatory, but a voluntary matter. This should be regularized through legislation if it is government policy."

THOUSANDS FORCED

For thousands of people, wage and salary-earners, hospital insurance has been mandatory. They haven't been asked whether or not they wanted to pay. Their premiums have been taken off their cheques without consent being asked, he said.

Mr. Webster added that exemptions should be offered to low income groups and co-insurance abolished.

He said the government should state clearly its policy on chronic and convalescent hospitals. The need for such institutions is becoming more pressing daily, he said.

The Hospital Insurance Act, he contended, should be amended to provide for accommodation of chronic patients in hospitals designated for the purpose for longer periods than at present possible.

Mr. Webster, dealing with the Dominion-provincial tax agreement and allied subjects, urged formation of a permanent dominion-provincial secretariat for research and consultation in all matters of mutual interest.

Dominion-provincial conferences should be held at least once a year.

"This would eliminate the necessity for periodic begging trips to Ottawa and provide opportunities for making adjustments in a dignified and businesslike manner," he said.

He said Canada must never return to the old condition of Balkanization—under which every province worked out its own destiny in its own way regardless of its difficulties or its natural handicaps.

"From now on there must be increasing interdependence and integration of the whole Canadian economy which can only be achieved by federal-provincial co-operation in planning and developing our resources and in maintaining a uniformly high standard of social services," the leader stated.

He noted Premier Bennett intends to go to Ottawa seeking federal financial assistance for B.C. development projects such as highways, forest protection and the PGE extension.

"Does this mean the government has forsaken its highly publicized intention to fight for amendments to the main agreement? Are we to be satisfied now with a few handouts from Ottawa to assist isolated development projects? Does this mean a change in government policy?" Mr. Webster asked.

He said if it can be proved that the tax agreements does discriminate against B.C., then the premier should insist upon an alteration of the terms to bring them in line with present conditions.

Veteran Prizes Souvenir

Veteran of two world wars and a first contingent man with the Princess Pats in 1914, Victorian Bert Cowlishaw has a prized souvenir of his regiment's recent reunion in Calgary.

It is a colored photograph of the original colors which the unit took into action, photographed by Lady Patricia Ramsay, who gave her name to the regiment, and Brig. A. Hamilton Gault, who founded it.

The photograph of the colors shows the marks of two bullet holes which Bert saw made by enemy bullets. Bert was with the unit from its first day until it wound up Armistice Day at Mons.

Two hundred ex-PPCLIs from British Columbia attended the reunion, Bert reports and says it was amazing how readily old comrades of France recognized one another after an absence of 39 years.

Among those attending was Pipe-Major Campbell, now of Port Haney. Eighty-one years of age, Campbell was once pipe-major to Queen Victoria. The old man is in excellent health and took part in everything, including the march past in front of Lady Patricia Ramsay when she presented the new colors, which she had made herself, to the third battalion of the regiment which will soon join the 27th Brigade in Germany.

Brig. "Shorty" Colquhoun of Victoria led the parade.

B.C. Highway Commission Urged by Opposition Chief

Appointment of a highway commission—with authority to designate projects on a priority basis—was advocated in the legislature Thursday by CCF Leader Arnold Webster.

He made the suggestion while proposing establishment of an overall planning department in government.

He said the commission should have wide powers to construct and maintain all provincial roads and bridges.

The suggestion is in line with a Vancouver newspaper proposal.

The Opposition leader, dealing with the special planning department, said the province has never had a body of trained men assigned to the extremely difficult task of assessing real needs of highways, bridges, railways, airports and harbors at the provincial level.

He didn't blame civil servants for the situation. "They have planned as well as they could in their various spheres of responsibility," he said. "The weakness is that no agency exists to co-ordinate the programs of expansion being developed in isolation."

Pietermaritzburg, the Natal provincial capital in South Africa, was founded by the Boers in 1839.

"They Don't Come any Better than GMC"

Big load or small load
It's more payload with GMC

GMC TRUCKS

WHEN IT COMES TO POWER, GMC trucks are in there punching with heavyweight strength. There's a wide choice of husky, improved valve-in-head engines with new high compression ratios to put rippling muscles into any hauling job. They bring you such advanced features as aluminum pistons, full-pressure lubrication, Power-Jet carburetion and controlled cooling.

WHEN IT COMES TO PERFORMANCE, GMC trucks play a stellar role under any conditions. The toughest jobs, the roughest roads—GMC takes them in its powerful stride. 1953 GMC trucks, with heavier, stronger, more durable frames, are the most dependable solution to your haulage problems.

WHEN IT COMES TO SAFETY, GMC trucks inspire confidence. All 1953 GMC trucks up to the 9400 series are now equipped, both front and rear, with big husky "Torque-Action" brakes—the brakes which utilize the motion of the truck itself for extra stopping power. Series 9100, 9500, 9700 and 9800 have extra-large "Torque-Action" brakes on the front wheels, and famous "Twin-Action" brakes at the rear.

WHEN IT COMES TO ECONOMY, GMC trucks are more money in your pocket. Big improvements in GMC's thrifty, valve-in-head engines, plus new, built-in shamsine, give you a new low in operation costs. Ton for ton, mile for mile, year after year—you get better value with GMC.

St. John Ambulance Opens Fund Appeal

In its 46th year of service in British Columbia, the St. John Ambulance Association this week launched a campaign for $100,000 to expand its training program, and replenish supplies.

In the past seven years, the association has trained 54,000 men and women in emergency first aid techniques.

Much of the association's work is with youth groups and school children, who are trained in preliminary first aid, and given bandages, text books, and certificates free of charge.

Voluntary first aid teams are on hand to lend aid where needed at public gatherings and sporting events.

Traveling first aid instructors are employed full-time to teach first aid in mills, mines, logging camps, and factories, as required by the Workmen's Compensation Act.

St. John Ambulance has also accepted the responsibility of training civil defense workers in basic and advanced first aid and home nursing. Of this work G. R. Stein, provincial civil defense co-ordinator, says: "Today, with civil defense of the utmost importance to all, St. John Ambulance more than ever deserves support."

Campaign officials hope to achieve the $100,000 objective by the end of this month.

A military fort was built on St. Ann Bay, Cape Breton Island, in 1629 by a French officer from Dieppe.

LONE TORY MLA SCORES NEW TAX

Giovando Says Added Impost on Mining, Logging to Create Ghost Towns Overnight

B.C.'s lone Progressive Conservative MLA Thursday predicted the provincial government's new taxation on logging and mining industries will create "ghost towns overnight."

Dr. Larry Giovando, Nanaimo, told the House the proposed 10 per cent tax on profits over $25,000 is ill-timed because a depressed market exists.

"The whole B.C. economy depends on these two industries," the doctor said. "To increase taxation at this time could send our economy to pieces."

He pleaded for careful study of the legislation before it is "railroaded through" the House.

The Tory said the forest industry must have a form of secure, transferable tenure to give risk capital a feeling of assurance, and also a form of equitable taxation to provide risk capital with a profit incentive.

PUBLIC INTEREST
The public has an interest in our forest economy," he stated. "Its interests are employment and revenue."

Dr. Giovando also requested:

1. Adequate transportation service for the Gulf Islands.
2. Creation of a new Gulf Islands riding.
3. Government financial aid for Alcoholics Anonymous.
4. Establishment of a "fish and game portfolio" separate from the attorney-general's department.
5. Better protection for game.
6. Additional government financial aid to the British Empire Games.
7. A 25-per-cent cut in car license fees.

The member repeated his plea for an adequate convalescent home system in the province.

"Twenty per cent of the present hospital cases could be discharged if we had convalescent homes or chronic beds," he said.

PLAN WORKED WELL
In Vernon, he explained, an out-patient service was operated for seven months for Vernon Jubilee Hospital patients.

"They treated 67 cases at a cost of $2.99 each per day, and a saving of 622 hospital days at $11.55—a saving of $7,184. That's something for the health minister to look into," the doctor said.

The MLA didn't like the government's action in forgiving all the hospital insurance delinquents who could afford to pay but didn't.

"We have heard that there is no patronage in the Social Credit regime. What about these people who failed to pay any premiums who have now been exempted from paying, or given temporary suspensions?"

"If this is not patronage, was it just a vote-catching scheme? By the way, this was passed by order-in-council—a term which rings a familiar bell from the last session. Now I find that this was not something which belonged solely to the coalition government."

What's New at Eaton's

When September rolls around, everyone starts rolling out to school... the tots to kindergarten, the teenagers to high school and college, and even Dad trots off to night-school for a course in Business Administration or something. And there you are Mom, with the house all to yourself. Now you might have time to take a peep into the mirror, and just maybe you'll wish there was a school for beauty... well, that's what all this was leading up to, for EATON'S will be presenting Elizabeth Arden's New Make-Up and Face Treatment Classes on October 1st, 2nd and 3rd.

Mind you, the school term is quite short (you attend just one two-hour session), but your new knowledge will serve you a lifetime. Each student will receive a complimentary kit of famous Elizabeth Arden Beauty preparations... your desk will be a dressing table... your supplies will be a mirror, neck band, wrap and towels... your lecturer, Miss Arden's special representative, Miss Dorris Rodwell.

Curriculum:
In a single session Miss Rodwell will show you how to give yourself the remarkable Firmo-Lift Treatment; you'll learn how to apply Basie Sheen, a new foundation... and you'll learn to use Miss Arden's new colour-over-colour make-up. What's more, it's not just a lecture you get, practical experience by using that kit of beauty preparations and all the supplies given to you before the class began, you actually learn by doing!

How to Register:
Come in and reserve your ticket or phone B 7141 and ask for the Elizabeth Arden counter... but keep in mind that there will be only six classes held in Victoria, and only fifty women will be admitted to each class, so if you want to be sure you're one of the lucky 500, you had better get your ticket now.

What's the Cost?
Practically nil... you pay just 1.50 for the ticket, at the end of the session you may apply that 1.50 on the purchase of any of Elizabeth Arden's cosmetic products. There will be a counter carrying her line right in the school room. Remember too, that you can keep the kit of Elizabeth Arden preparations you received.

Where's the School?
At EATON'S naturally... on the Second Floor of the House Furnishings Building... a private classroom where you can concentrate exclusively on this new Education in Beauty.

What Classes Can You Attend?

There are two classes per day on Thursday, October 1; Friday, October 2; Saturday, October 3.

Morning Classes... 9.30 to 11.30 a.m.

Afternoon Classes... 2.00 to 4.00 p.m.

The afternoon lecture on Saturday will be of particular interest to busy business girls.

So, for a new, prettier you... for an education in the principles of the art of make-up, get your ticket tomorrow to Elizabeth Arden's New Make-Up and Face Treatment Classes from EATON'S—Cosmetics, Main Floor.

British Jets in Air Race of Century

Claimed by British manufacturers to be the world's best, the Hawker Hunter, above, and the Vickers-Armstrong Swift, below, will thunder over the African desert next week in a duel for the world's speed record. The race will also prove a battle between two of Britain's senior test pilots, Lt.-Cmdr. Michael Lithgow, who will handle the Swift, and Sqdr. Ldr. Neville Duke, who recently established a world speed mark of 727.6 m.p.h. in the Hawker, built by the Hawker-Siddeley Co.

70,000 Riflemen Demand Release of Mossadegh

TEHRAN, Iran (UP)—A spokesman for Iran's largest tribe announced today 70,000 riflemen were ready to back up an ultimatum for the release of jailed former Premier Mohammed Mossadegh.

The spokesman, Rezaadsh Ghasghal, said Chief Nasser Khan of the 200,000-member Ghasghal tribe handed the ultimatum to a member of Premier Fazlollah Zadeh's government. Zadeh had sent the emissary into southern Iran to determine whether the Ghasghal tribe was loyal to the premier and the Shah.

Nasser told the representatives of the 70,000 riflemen that they must demand the release of Mossadegh.

TOKYO (AP)—British, Canadian and other United Nations forces, excluding Americans, must "eventually" leave their Japanese bases now that a Korean armistice has been signed, Foreign Minister Katsumi Okazaki said today.

Okazaki said British and other UN forces excluding Americans are based in Japan because of the Korean war, so there is no reason for them to remain indefinitely if the Korean war is settled.

RCMP Hunt Slayer
PARRSBORO, N.S. (BUP)—RCMP searched today for the slayer of Frank Clemson, 33, of the nearby coal mining town of Springhill.

Clemson's body was discovered in a truck Friday and police said he died of gunshot wounds in the throat. Ejected shells

SHAMROCKS, TWO DOWN, TOPS AT BOX OFFICE

Victoria Lacrosse fans aren't giving up on the Shamrocks. Despite the fact that the 'Rocks are down two games to Peterborough Trailermen in the best-of-seven series for the Canadian lacrosse championship, a near-capacity crowd is again expected for the third game at Memorial Arena tonight.

Hunted Man Spreads Panic In Olympics

Wilkinson Road Escapee at Large, Tricks Pursuit Near Port Angeles

James Carrol Hall, Wilkinson Road Mental Hospital escapee, now positively identified as the man who is haunting the Crescent Lake country near Port Angeles, is causing panic among rural dwellers.

The 30-year-old convicted burglar who twice attempted to take his own life while in custody, and who escaped from the Wilkinson Road institution a second time last Friday, has been reported sighted repeatedly in Washington state.

Troopers of the State Patrol and deputies from the Port Angeles sheriff's office, led by Sheriff James Morse, have been minutes behind the fugitive on several occasions. But he has been able to evade them so far.

"The people of this area are pretty much upset," American officials told The Times today. "They think this man is dangerous. We were close to him this morning; but he got away. He seems to be able to move mighty fast in the bush."

Children are staying home from school. Wives won't let their husbands leave their homes. The fugitive, who has been seen and recognized by the description circulated by word of mouth, radio and newspapers, has approached several farmers for food and work. But he has been smart enough to sense suspicion and has vanished on each occasion the police have been notified of his presence.

RADIO ALARM
Shortly after 11 a.m. today, a motorist equipped with two-way radio, reported a man answering to Hall's description on a bridge at the western end of Lake Crescent.

Sheriff Morse of Port Angeles, with a deputy, raced to the spot by car. "We are in direct radio communication with the sheriff," he said.

Sentenced to Jail, Ontario Policeman Found Shot Dead

GUELPH, Ont. (CP)—Corporal Bill Hodgson, 59, of the Ontario Provincial Police, sentenced to 15 days in jail for drunken driving, was found shot to death today in his apartment room in an office building.

Provincial police officers said Hodgson, who apparently committed suicide, had been dead for several days. The officers investigated after tenants of a downstairs office complained of odors from the room.

Hodgson, a member of the OPP detachment here for 15 years and a former police chief of Kitchener, was suspended after his conviction. He filed an appeal of the sentence last week and was free pending its hearing.

Gavilan, Basilio Ready for Title Fight Tonight

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UP)—In operation "little switch," challenger Carmen Basilio today before scaling the 147-pound limit for tonight's welterweight title fight again Kid Gavilan, who registered 146½.

Champion Gavilan was expected to have difficulty making the weight, but he hit 146½ the first time he stepped on the scales in War Memorial auditorium, where the 15-round nationally televised and broadcast fight will be held. (Fight broadcast time 7 p.m., CJVI).

Justice Farris Leaves Hospital

VANCOUVER (CP)—Chief Justice Wendell B. Farris was released from St. Paul's Hospital Thursday where he was being treated for pneumonia.

The prominent jurist was stricken earlier in the year and was recuperating at his farm in Surrey when he suffered a serious relapse Aug. 22.

CCL Takes Stand

MONTREAL (CP)—The executive of the Canadian Congress of Labor proposed today that Canada recognize the Communist government of China and press for its admission to the United Nations, providing the Korean peace conference reaches a "successful conclusion."

Graydon Continues In 'Poor Condition'

TORONTO (CP)—Hospital authorities said today the condition of Gordon Graydon, 56, foreign affairs expert of the Progressive Conservative party and veteran member of parliament for Ontario's 1st constituency, is "unchanged."

Mr. Graydon, who underwent an operation last month, was described as in "very poor" condition Thursday night.

There may be Communists mixed up in it, like the feller sez, but them Douks don't seem 't be tryin' t' hide either right or left when they're paradin'.

Wonder which o' th' folks who voted against it'll be th' first t' use th' nursin' home?

Few more candidates an' fellers who ain't runnin' fer mayor are goin' t' look conspicuous.

UN Delegate From Poland Bolts to West

Asylum Sought In United States

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—A Polish United Nations delegate has bolted and asked the United States for asylum, informed sources said today.

He is Dr. Marek Korowicz, first alternate member of the Polish delegation to the UN General Assembly.

Korowicz was a professor at Kikow University in Poland before being assigned recently to the UN post.

According to the sources, Korowicz has no immediate relatives at home who might suffer from his defection.

This fact evidently was discovered by a delegation official while the group was aboard ship en route here. When the group arrived, Korowicz's passport was said to have been picked up by his countryman.

This probably played a big part in convincing him to ask asylum, observers said.

Allied PWs Change Minds Over Release

MUNSAN (AP)—Ten or more Allied prisoners who once refused repatriation have changed their minds and will be handed over to the UN command Saturday, the Communists told the Allied command today.

The Reds did not give any nationalities.

The Communists said previously they held about 300 South Koreans and about 20 non-Koreans who had refused to return home. At least some Americans were believed to be among the score of non-Koreans.

An announcement from the UN section of the joint military armistice commission said the Allied prisoners would be released 11 a.m. Saturday (7 p.m. Friday, PDT).

Reported Ready to Place Children With Orthodox

By LOYD BULMUR
VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—Nine more Doukhobors were convicted today of parading in the nude. This brings to a total of 18 the number of Doukhobors so far convicted of the offense in the last two days.

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—Soup, juices and glucose were ordered today for 144 Doukhobor fanatics after reports from faraway Uruguay apparently ended their eight-day fast at Oakalla Prison.

Guant faces and faltering footsteps among the 73 women and 72 men prompted prison physician Dr. R. G. Richmond to order about 80 of them to bed. He said some had reached "the danger point."

The hunger strike ended simultaneously with word from Montevideo that the nude parades for which the Doukhobors had been jailed may have ruined the sect's chances to resettle in the republic.

Stefan S. Sorokin, bearded spiritual leader of the Sons of Freedom told reporters in Montevideo that the Uruguayan government had given him the "manana" treatment since the dissidents had staged new uprisings here in British Columbia.

"Manana" means tomorrow, or, in this instance, indefinite postponement.

Sorokin went to Uruguay a year ago to negotiate for resettlement of 700 Doukhobor families now living in British Columbia's Kootenay Valley.

The Doukhobors reportedly contributed $25,000 to finance his trip. There was no comment at Oakalla prison on Sorokin's statements but the Doukhobors obviously were disheartened. Coupled with exhaustion from the lack of food, the development was believed to have broken the fanatics' desire to refuse to eat until they received "a message from God."

One of the Doukhobors asked prison guards Thursday night for six dozen cans of vegetable juices—the first sign that the men were ready to end the fast. Most of the women had requested juice on Tuesday. Only a few die-hards still refused to eat.

All were to have appeared Thursday in a makeshift police court at the Jubilee labor hall in suburban Burnaby but only 50 men and 12 women were strong enough to make the trip in buses. A squad of RCMP constables had to carry some of the women into the courtroom.

Specifically, the Douks were accused of parading nude before school children at interior Perry's Sliding when the government ordered that all Doukhobor children must attend regular school classes. Charges of contributing to juvenile delinquency were imposed on all of them.

Nine Sons of Freedom were convicted and remanded to Sept. 21 for sentence. The cases against the others were continued until Sept. 25. Court authorities said as many trials as day as possible would be held regularly after the 25th until the entire band had answered the charges.

Douk Trouble Not Red-Inspired

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Authorities here said today that Communists have not been responsible for the antics of Sons of Freedom Doukhobors in this area.

They were commenting on a statement by Stefan S. Sorokin, spiritual leader of the Doukhobors in British Columbia, from Uruguay that recent demonstrations were "instigated by Communists."

The source here said Mr. Sorokin's feelings about the affect of Communism on Doukhobors, although not entirely without foundation, were somewhat colored by his own experience before coming to Canada.

The bearded Sorokin, in Uruguay for 10 months in an attempt to find a new home for the Doukhobors, arrived in Canada several years ago as a displaced person after suffering persecution and became a figure of veneration among the radical sect.

The nature of the Doukhobite cult, opposing man-made laws and organized authority, including government, can give an incorrect impression that it favors Communism, experienced observers said.

But the fact that the splinter religion opposes authority in any form—except the self-imposed form of religious leadership it develops—discounted the Red influence.

Sons' Children May Go to School

KRESTOVA, B.C. (BUP)—ask the orthodox Doukhobors to take their children and those of the imprisoned Doukhobors into their homes.

Observers said this appeared to be the first offer from the Sons of Freedom to send their children to school. All orthodox Doukhobor children attend regular classes in the Kootenay area schools and, should they accept the Doukhobite children, it was presumed they also would attend schools.
